Dr. Sam Anxiously Awaits Court Verdict

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) —
"When you've gone through 10 years of hell, you know how precious your freedom is," says Dr. Sam Sheppard.

These are tension-filled days for Sheppard, 41, and his German-born wife, the former Ariane Tebbenhjohans. She married Sheppard two days after his release July 16 from Ohio Penitentiary where he was serving a life sentence for the bludgeon slaying of his first wife, Marilyn.

Mrs. Sheppard, 35, a slim, attractive blonde, shares her husband's anxiety and seeks to bolster his hope that he won't return to prison.

A decision on this could come any day now from the 6th U.S.

Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati.

The Sheppards live quietly in a rented five-room brick row house in suburban Rocky River.
Occasionally they go out to dinner and a show but they avoid night clubs or other public places.

They spend most of their time at home where Sam reads medical journals and compiles lists of new drugs. He has been teaching his bride how to use surgical instruments. Some day, he hopes, she will be his surgical assistant.

The pipe-smoking Sheppard is tense and restless, his 35-year-old spouse said during an exclusive interview Tuesday.

"He's never been so scared in all his life," she said. "How much can one man endure? Sam is strong, but he's only human."

"After this paradise, Sam said the thought of possibly going back to prison would be more than he could stand."

The former osteopath has insisted that a "bushy-haired" intruder beat his pregnant wife to death in their suburban Bay Village home before dawn July 4, 1954. A jury convicted him of second-degree murder, which carries a life sentence and possibility of parole after 10 years.

Appeals involving expenses Ariane estimated at more than $100,000 failed as the years went by. But last July, Sheppard was released on a writ of habeas corpus from U.S. Dist. Judge Carl A. Weinman of Dayton.
The judge ruled Sheppard's constitutional rights were violated during the trial — in part by what the judge called unfair newspaper publicity.

The state appealed Judge Weinman's order freeing Sheppard on $10,000 bond. The three-judge federal appellate court heard final arguments last Oct.
9.

If the court upholds Judge Weinman, Sheppard will remain free and the state must decide whether to retry him.

Lee Bailey of Boston, counsel for Sheppard, said he would appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary, to prevent Sheppard's return to prison.

"I think his chances of ever coming back are remote," said Bailey.

About their plans, Ariane said her husband wants to:

—Adopt Iris, her 11-year-old daughter by a previous marriage. The girl is in a boarding school outside Dusseldorf, Germany.

—Visit Culver Military Academy in Indiana where his son, Sam Jr., 17, is a senior looking toward a career in law or medicine.

—Regain his license as an osteopathic surgeon specializing in diseases of the nervous system. He said he has had a dozen job offers from hospitals in Pennsylvania, New York, Arizona and California but wants to work in Ohio.

Siamese Twins
OK after Surgery

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Webster twins, Karen Marie and Kimberly Marie, rested in Isol-ettes today after being separated by surgery.

Doctors expressed cautious optimism the 2-month-old Siamese twins would survive.
They found that besides the liver and breast bone, the infants shared a pericardium, the membrane enclosing the heart.

Surgical openings where the babies had been attached were patched temporarily with specially developed plastic materials which do not interact chemically with body substances.

The Siamese twins were born Dec. 8 to Mr. and Mrs. John Webster Jr. of Bay City.

French Foreign Chief
Is Enroute to U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville arrives in Washington tonight for talks with President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk on relations between the two countries.

There is no prepared agenda for the discussions, which some officials believe may pave the way for a meeting of Johnson and French President Charles de Gaulle later this year.

Rookie Officer Traps Bombers

NEW YORK (AP) — Raymond Wood, 31-year-old Negro who 10 months ago was just a rookie cop, plunged coolly into a cloak-and-dagger role to unmask a quartet allegedly bent on blowing up the Statue of Liberty, the Washington Monument and the Liberty Bell.

Three American Negroes, described as pro-Castro and pro-Red Chinese racial fanatics, and a striking Canadian blonde, were seized Tuesday in a lightning roundup by police and the FBI.

Wood was hustled to a police station along with one of the alleged plotters as he was helping transfer 20 sticks of dynamite from a lot to an auto in a quiet residential section of the Bronx. Alerted by Wood, police had blanketed the area.

The 6-foot-1 inch, 201-pound
Wood, who is single, for three months had infiltrated a Negro extremist organization known as the Black Liberation Front at a daily risk of his life.

Wood said of his achievement only: "I wanted to do my best."
He murmured "thank you"
when Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy, at a news conference, handed Wood an immediate promotion — the gold shield of a detective.

"You certainly deserve it," said Murphy.

An outstanding high school football player at Chester, S.C., Wood served four years in the U.S. Air Force in Germany with an investigative unit. He attended Fordham University for six months. Before that he had been a cost accountant.

A patrolman for seven months, Wood undertook his dangerous mission when he became undercover agent for the police Bureau of Special Services.

He made his initial contact in a bar last December. From then on, it was a cat-and-mouse game as he attended meetings, walked picket lines until he was recognized as one of "them," and listened stolidly as he was told about the dynamite plots.

Those arrested were Robert S.
Collier, 28, Boston-born, married with one child; Walter A.
Bowe, 32 Philadelphia-born, married with one child; Khaleel
S. Sayeed, 22, Brooklyn-born and single; and Michelle Ducros, 28, of Montreal, television commentator and member of a political party that advocates separation of French-speaking Quebec citizens from the rest of Canada.

Collier who received an other-than-honorable discharge from military service after slashing a man during a fight in England in 1956, was said originally to have broached plans for three-man teams to destroy U.S. installations.

On Jan. 19, Commissioner Murphy said, it was Bowe who espoused the idea of blowing up the Statue of Liberty, which he called "the damn old bitch."

New Moonshot Is Fired

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Spacecraft Ranger 8 was rocketed toward the moon today to snap 4,000 photos of the dusty, crater-pocked lunar surface and continue the exploration started by Ranger 7.

An Atlas-Agena rocket thundered into the sky at 12:05 p.m. to start the bug-like craft on a planned quarter-million-mile journey intended to probe mysteries which must be solved before American astronauts tread the lunar surface in 1969.

The flight plan called for the camera-toting 809-pound spacecraft to execute several intricate maneuvers and crash-land on the moon about 5 a.m. Saturday after a 234,300-mile space trip. The special photographic target is a wide plain called the Sea of Tranquility.

In the final 13 minutes and 40 seconds, Ranger 8's six cameras are to flash to earth more than 4,000 pictures at altitudes ranging from 1,180 miles down to about half a mile.

The Sea of Tranquility is nearer to the moon's shadow line than the region photographed by Ranger 7. The pictures thus should have better definition of detail because of longer shadows cast by rocks, mountain peaks and other features.

The 4,312 pictures transmitted by Ranger 7 were about 2,000 times better than any obtained by land-based telescopic cameras. In the final shots, craters only 18 inches across were visible.

Space agency officials said the pictures indicate the lunar surface is covered with extremely fine rubble. Experts disagree on the depth. Ranger 8 may shed light on the controversy.

The launching will climax a major space doubleheader at Cape Kennedy.

A Saturn 1 rocket successfully hurled a giant space bird named Pegasus into orbit Tuesday to study the threat that meteoroids pose to manned space flight.

DAN CRABTREE

JAMES WILSON

Community Fund Officials Named; Workers Honored

James Wilson and Dan Crabtree were officially named last night to top executive posts in the Pickaway County Community Fund organization.

Wilson, who served as fund campaign chairman during the last drive, will now move to the president's post. Crabtree, this year's vice chairman, will direct the coming campaign.

The new president succeeds
Earl Palm following an election of officers and trustees. Additional new officers are Gary Grooms, treasurer, and Don Flieri, secretary.

Grooms succeeds Kenneth Fosnaugh. Flieri replaces E.G.
Grigg who steps down after 10 consecutive years of service with the Community Fund.

ELECTED three-year trustees and alternates respectively were: Pickaway Twp. — L. J.
McKenzie and Alfred Gabriel; Wayne Twp. — G. L. Roth and Mrs. W. R. Thornton; Circleville Twp. — Mrs. C. F. Lightie and Mrs. Herman Porter; Jackson Twp. — Mrs. Marvne Rhoades and Mrs. H. N. Stevenson; Ash-ville — W. J. Bastian and Orlan Hines; Circleville — H. K. Lan-man and H. J. Clifton; Deer-

Negro Cleric Is Slugged, Faces Trial

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — A Negro civil rights leader who was struck in the mouth by the sheriff of Dallas County faces trial today on a contempt of court charge.

"He said I was an evil man," reported Sheriff James G. Clark Tuesday. "He said I was like Hitler. He said people followed me like Hitler and they would regret it."

Clark said he stuck the Negro with his fist, adding, "I think I may have broken a finger."

The Negro, the Rev. C. T.
Vivian of Atlanta, Ga., was taken to a hospital, blood dripping from his mouth. Later, he was jailed.

Vivian, an aide of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., also was charged with criminal provocation. Bond on this charge was set at $300. The contempt charge, based on a state court order barring illegal assembly, is not bondable.

The sheriff, a powerfully built 6-footer weighing more than 200 pounds, said Vivian had deliberately provoked the incident.
Vivian is 5 feet, 11½ inches tall and weighs 165 pounds. A deputy said one stitch was put in his mouth.

Cincinnati Area Girl Killed by School Bus

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hamilton County police are investigating an accident in which a six-year-old Groesbeck girl was killed as she was run over by her school bus.

Officers quoted driver Edward Feagan, 47, as saying he assumed Christine Thesken went around the rear of the bus after alighting across the street from her home. Instead, the child was in front of the bus when he started the vehicle. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Roger Thesken.

New Viet Nam Action Develops

Red Battalion Under Attack

Cong Naval Units
Also Are Targets

SAIGON, South Viet Nam
(AP) — A large military operation began today with the discovery of a battalion of Viet Cong in an area 32 miles southwest of Saigon.

Vietnamese troops were rushed into the area in early afternoon. No detailed reports were available from the scene.

Military spokesmen also reported that fighter-bombers attacked and sank a large, apparently metal-hulled Viet Cong vessel in a cove in Vung Ro Bay about 235 miles northeast of Saigon.

Heavy fire from the Communist vessel drove off a Vietnamese navy junk and observation planes before the assault by air force planes.

The well-camouflaged ship was spotted by an American helicopter pilot, Lt. J. S. Bowers of Lyndonville, Vt. A junk sent to the bay drew heavy fire as did an observation plane flown by Lt. Cmdr. Harvey P. Rodgers of Smithtown, N.Y.

"Everything that went near the place received heavy fire," said Rodgers. He said the area is a well-known Viet Cong region.

Military spokesmen in Saigon reported heavy casualties among American and Vietnamese military forces during the Feb. 7-13 period.

They listed 35 Americans

Johnson Asks Ike's Advice On Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson had a surprise conference today with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, seeking Eisenhower's advice on Viet Nam policy.

The White House said Viet Nam was one of a broad range of world problems touched on in the lengthy, informal talk between the President and the 74-year-old general who left the presidency four years ago.

Johnson's press secretary,
George E. Reedy, was asked whether Johnson had asked Eisenhower for advice on Viet Nam policy.

"Yes, of course, he asked the general's advice," Reedy replied.

He said Johnson and Eisenhower also talked about "general world problems" and discussions Eisenhower had with some leaders while in London for the funeral of Sir Winston Churchill.

Eisenhower was in Washington for a medical checkup at Walter Reed Army Medical Center. Reedy said Johnson learned of this and "asked him to come by the White House and visit with him."

Eisenhower looked ruddy and fit.

3000 Go Lunchless

CLEVELAND (AP) — A member of the Cleveland School Board, William Boyd, claims that 3,000 high school pupils go without lunch daily here because they don't have 15 cents each to pay for it.

Hare Disposal Is Harry

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Officials have finally agreed to pick up that sick-looking rabbit from Tom Burke's yard.

But you can't blame Burke for being pessimistic.
Tuesday, four county offices told him, in effect: Don't call us, let it die, kill it and don't kill it.

Today, Burke said, one of the agencies has promised to come for the rabbit.

The rabbit, which Burke describes as two-third grown, runs around in five-foot circles, won't eat anything and pays no attention to humans.

Activities Center Under Study Here

Preliminary visions of a possible community activities center in Circleville were outlined last night in City Council.

Describing the idea was so-lon John Jenkins. He said his conception visualizes an adequate building with recreational and social facilities for youngsters and adults alike.

Jenkins said a study of the project has already been initiated. He currently is working with State Representative Roy Huffer Jr. and Richard Davis of The Herald.

The councilman said all information and avenues available will be explored. He indicated that state and federal aid could possibly be obtained in making the project a reality.

JENKINS said efforts will be made to determine the extent of local interest in such a project.
He noted that the idea is now in its infant stage, but added that additional information will be forthcoming.

In other business, the solons were asked about the possibility of extending water mains to an area just outside the corporation limits. The informal inquiry was made by D. E. Goodchild and Dr. John Bowers.

The two local men have acquired a portion of the Glick land along Walnut Creek Pike next to the City View Addition.
Their interest centers on obtaining city water service in conjunction with subdividing the land.

Goodchild noted that the actual subdividing will hinge, in great part, on what city facilities could be made available.

Both Goodchild and Bowers are members of the local Board of Public Utilities. Solicitor Kenneth Robbins asserted that the city could not legally enter into a contract with them while they serve in this capacity.

Council President Harold Clifton suggested the two men meet with the appropriate Council committee and other city personnel for a closer look at the proposal. Goodchild and Bowers agreed.

COUNCILMAN Jenkins reported that a request for a traffic light at Court and Union
Sts. has been referred to Safety Director Miller Fissell, who has been sold to Negroes.

Syria Ousts U.S. Envoy as 'Spy'

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) —
The Syrian government has ordered the second secretary of the U.S. Embassy, Walter S.
Snowdon, out of the country.
The newspaper Al Ba'ath, spokesman of the ruling Ba'ath Socialist party, accused him of heading a spy ring.

The American Embassy said the Syrian Foreign Ministry demanded Snowdon's recall Tuesday but gave no reason. The embassy said Snowdon, 46, his wife and two children were preparing to leave the country.

Al Ba'ath charged that Snow-don headed a ring that collected secret information on the Syrian army. It claimed that all other members of the ring had been arrested and had made full confessions.

will conduct a traffic study at the intersection. His findings will be submitted to the lawmakers.

Jenkins also requested steps be taken to set up a Municipal Civil Service examination in order to establish an eligible list for the police and fire departments. He said this should be done in order to provide for retirements and resignations.

Mayor Ben H. Gordon announced that the State Highway Department has informed him that a new bridge will be erected over Hargus Creek at Lancaster Pike in the near future. He also noted that contracts for state improvements on E. Main St. are scheduled to be awarded in July.

Mayor Raps His Rights Case Arrest

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Orville Hubbard of Dearborn, Mich., calling himself a victim of a "rotten abuse of the mighty power of the federal government," has pleaded innocent to charges of violating and conspiring to violate federal civil rights laws.

Federal agents had been trying to find Hubbard for five days when the mayor showed up in U.S. District Court Tuesday for arraignment. The charges were filed in connection with an anti-Negro demonstration in 1963.

The portly mayor of Dearborn, a predominantly white city of 112,000, was released on $5,000 bond. Judge Theodore M.
Marchewicz refused to place him under personal bond after Asst. U.S. Atty. William Merrill said he "had concern about whether the defendant will appear for trial."

Judge Marchewicz said Mayor Hubbard had "so much disrespect and disregard for the laws of this nation and the institutions of this nation that I am deeply distressed."

The indictment alleges that Hubbard conspired with two police officers to deny protection to a Dearborn homeowner.
Demonstrators stoned the house in mistaken belief that the home had been sold to Negroes.

The two other officials, Police Chief Garrison Clayton and Public Safety Director George W. Lewis, have pleaded innocent.

U.S.-Soviet Visit Proposal Shelved

MOSCOW (AP) — The Viet Nam flareup has put on ice prospects for visits by President Johnson to the Soviet Union and Soviet leaders to the United States.

Just two weeks ago, Johnson said he hoped the visits would take place this year. Now consideration of them has been suspended according to Soviet and U.S. sources.

They say the U.S. air raids on North Viet Nam and the hostile Soviet reaction destroyed the atmosphere necessary for an exchange of visits.

Clark County Sheriff's Office — "You don't have the legal right to kill it. It's a wild ani- mal and belongs to the state."

Since Burke lives in suburban Parkridge Acres, he can't call Springfield police.

He said he wouldn't mind killing the rabbit but he has no hunting license and "the rabbit belongs to the state."

What really upset him most, he said, was that "nobody even wanted to talk to me about the rabbit." He added:
"I think that somebody finally got the word. But I still got the rabbit."

killed in action, 196 wounded and one missing. Most of those casualties were in Viet Cong terrorist bombings of service-men's billets.

The attack Feb. 10 on an enlisted men's hotel at Qui Nhon resulted in 21 deaths and injuries to 20 other Americans. Eight Americans were killed and more than 100 wounded at Pleiku Feb. 7 in a Viet Cong mortar attack.

Vietnamese losses for the week were 290 killed, 655 wounded and 610 missing. A high percentage of these losses were suffered in a battle in Binh Dinh Province Feb. 7 and 8. The casualty figures are still changing as more bodies are found and other soldiers fail to return to duty.

Viet Cong losses of 795 killed and 105 captured were claimed.

Chief of State Phan Khanh Sui returned to Saigon this afternoon from Poulo Condore, an island prison off the southern tip of South Viet Nam. There he ordered the release of more than 120 political prisoners, including 17 who had been under death sentence.

A military firing squad executed a Viet Cong section leader accused of stirring up a violent antigovernment demonstration Monday in the central Vietnamese town of Thang Binh.

Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, military governor of the area, said the Communist terrorist was behind an attempt by about 2,000 demonstrators to force their way into district headquarters at Thang Binh.

Troops opened fire on the mob, killing 13 persons and wounding three. Several others were arrested.

This said the execution was a warning to the Viet Cong and their sympathizers against further antigovernment demonstrations.

Negro Farmer Says He Fears To Vote

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — "Until we can get to the polls, I don't think we can be considered citizens," a 78-year-old Negro farmer, who says he paid poll taxes for more than 40 years before being allowed to register as a voter, told the U.S. Civil Rights Commission.

Although he was permitted to register, Jake Cain of Carroll County said, he has been afraid to vote.

Cain was one of 15 Negro witnesses who appeared before the commission Tuesday. Some said "things are getting better."

The commission hoped to wind up its look into voting registration today and consider other matters.

ADDITIONAL business centered on activity reports from the agencies benefited by the Community Fund. These organizations are the Salvation Army, Boy and Girl Scouts, the Pickaway County Chapter of the American Red Cross, the Well - Child Clinic and the Youth Canteen.

A report on the completion of a successful campaign for 1964-65 was submitted by President Wilson. This was followed by the appointment of a new budget and missions committee. Members of this panel are Earl Palm, (chairman), Dan Crabtree, Don Collins, Mrs. Clifford Bowser and James Wilson.

The committee requested that all agency budget requests be submitted by April 1.

The next meeting is scheduled for May 18.

OCFA Joins National Cattle Assn.

The Ohio Cattle Feeders Assn. has become the 39th state livestock association to affiliate in the American National Cattle-men's Assn., it was announced here today.

Sharing the announcement were Hewitt Cromley, Ashville, president of the Ohio organization, and Brooks J. Keogh, president of the national group.

The action was consummated at the recent national convention at Portland, Ore., when the Ohio association formally joined the 38 other state beef cattle feeder and rancher groups.

Cromley and other Ohioans represented their organization at the industry session which will meet again next January in Kansas City, Mo.

Cromley has been named to the national group's board of directors.

Directors of the Ohio Cattle Feeders Assn., include Frank Bowling Jr., Circleville; H. H. Pendleton, Mt. Sterling; and Harold Pontious, Amanda.

Floor Mat Taken

A floor mat was taken from the sidewalk in front of the Rexall Drug Store, 114 N. Court St. Norman Kutler, store owner, told Circleville Police he cleaned the mat and placed it outside to dry. When he looked for it a few minutes later it was gone.

Laurelville Couple Hurt In Accident

An elderly Laurelville couple was injured 5 p. m. yesterday in a one - car accident east of Laurelville on Route 56.

Verna Jinks, 76, was listed in "fair" condition today by authorities at Riverside Methodist Hospital, Columbus. His wife, Bertha, 74, was reported in "poor" condition.

Jinks sustained lacerations of the face and left arm and chest injuries. His wife suffered lacerations of the face and arms and a fractured leg, according to a report by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Jinks was eastbound on Route 56 when the car he was driving veered off the road. As he swerved to get back onto the paved portion of the road, he apparently lost control, officers said.

Deputies said the vehicle careened across the road, ripped out four rods of fence and struck a concrete block barn. The auto was demolished, they said.

Lima Voters Shun School Issue Again

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Lima voters Tuesday rejected a proposed city school levy for the third time in 10 months.

Action now will be taken by the school board to end kindergarten classes, a substitute teacher program and drop all intramural and inter - scholastic athletics and all extra curricular activities.

The proposed 3.95-mill levy was favored by 50.3 per cent of the voters, but because it was a special election, 55 per cent was needed for passage. The rejection may affect Lima's teacher situation, since it overruled pay raises. Elections in May and November were on a 5-mill levy.

DiSalle Says Ohio Failing To Cure Juvenile Problem

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio's failure to meet the problem of juvenile delinquency "creates for itself the ever - growing Frankenstein of adult crime," former Gov. Michael DiSalle said today.

DiSalle, sounding much like a candidate for office, attacked Gov. James A. Rhodes' handling of the delinquency problem, saying "needed action is being covered with a thin veneer applied with hot air and spinning wheels."

He charged that the Republican administration has injected

Information Of Interest To Veterans

(Veterans and their dependents who may have any questions concerning any benefits from the Veterans Administration should bring their questions to James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer. His office is located in the basement of the County Court House.)

May 1, 1965 is a very important date for all veterans to remember, according to James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service officer.

The law, Shea said, that reopened GI insurance says that the new GI insurance can be sold on that day for the first time, and for one year after, until May 2, 1966.

The same law spells out the three classes of disabled veterans who can apply, Shea said. They are those with a service-connected disability who meet good health standards; those who can't meet good health standards because of the service - connected disability; and those with non - service - connected disabilities unable to buy commercial insurance at the highest rates.

There is no doubt, Shea said, if you are a veteran, and disabled, with no GI Insurance, or less than $10,000 worth, and otherwise eligible, you should keep May 1, 1965, in mind. If you are wondering whether you can get the insurance, drop in at my office in the basement of the court house, Shea concluded, and we will determine if you are eligible, and give to you the data now available concerning the new insurance law.

ed politics into the state's Youth Commission and that job applicants in many cases must "be cleared with the County Bar Association, contended that his administration was making progress in juvenile correction programs until "a politically motivated Republican majority in the legislature" cut back funds in 1961.

That and "the initiation of false economy in the name of austerity" under Rhodes led to the loss of professional personnel, he contended.

He said Ohio needs more than one boys' institution and that serious offenders should not be confined in the same place as youths committed for more minor offenses.

He contended that a strong program of treatment for juvenile offenders could reduce the cost of adult correctional services, which he said now take $3 for every $1 expended on juvenile programs. "Too often," he said, "little bad boys turn out to be big bad criminals."

If Ohio continues to send youths "to an understaffed, overcrowded and under-equipped institution (in the name of austerity) our percentage of failures is going to continue to be high."

Stock Prices Edge Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — An irregular recovery pushed the stock market somewhat higher in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

A number of issues which backtracked Monday and Tuesday made fairly sharp comebacks. But there were many soft spots throughout the list.

The aerospace defense stocks continued mostly higher as uncertainty continued regarding developments in the Southeast Asian military situation.

Airlines also were mostly higher, with the notable exception of Eastern, which slumped about 2 points in continued profit taking on its recent strength.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 331.4 with industrials up 1.0, rails unchanged and utilities up .6.

Payments Deficit Slash Is Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said today the United States must cut more than a billion dollars from its balance of payments deficit.

The deficit was slightly more than $3 billion last year. In a speech to a conference sponsored by the National Industrial Conference Board, Dillon said: "When we talk of substantial improvement in 1965, I want to make it amply clear that we are not thinking of a few hundred million dollars. Even a full billion-dollar improvement would not meet our needs. We can and must do considerably more."

Pollution Unsolved

Industry has become increasingly sensitive to its share of the responsibility for pollution of rivers, lakes and harbors. Wastes from manufacturing operations being among the most troublesome pollutants, the National Association of Manufacturers has stepped forth with a new defense of industry's attempts to do something about them.

The NAM surveyed nearly 3,000 companies, which it said used 90 per cent of the nation's industrial water, and found 69 per cent of them had equipment to treat water before returning it to public channels.

That sounds impressive, but looking over some rivers and streams a large doubt remains that mere installation of treatment facilities by 69 per cent of companies has eliminated 69 per cent of industrial water pollution.

Chilling Thought

About the only thing to recommend the Antarctic climate is that it's too cold for insects. Now even that comfort has been removed by the discovery of a little bug 300 miles from the South Pole, far deeper into the frozen continent than animal life has been found before.

The mite that scientists happened upon near the mouth of the Robert Scott Glacier is a hundredth of an inch long, considerably shorter than its name, Nanorchestes Antarcticus. Its existence in a region of the world where the temperature approaches 100 degrees below zero has caused a stir in entomological circles and it may be something for laymen to think about, too.

For now that Nanorchestes has shown the way, maybe its larger and fiercer relative, the mosquito, will feel impelled to come out of hibernation and add to the trials of North American winters, already tough enough.

Axe for Postal Savings

A sharp decline of deposits in the postal savings system has led Postmaster General Gronouski to propose abolition of this once highly popular friend of the thrifty. In its heyday the 54-year-old savings program appealed to millions.

But nowadays banks and other private savings institutions are as close as the corner mailbox, the government guarantees bank deposits well beyond the $2,500 limit on postal accounts, private institutions pay 3 and 4 per cent, and the government itself offers up to 3.75 per cent on its Series E savings bonds.

On the face of it, then, there seems little reason for the Post Office to remain in the banking business. But Congress should look carefully into why one million depositors still rely on the postal windows before cutting off a system which is at least breaking even.

New Conservatism

By John Chamberlain

Dimly, the shape of a new conservatism in national politics is emerging from the wreckage of the derailed Goldwater push. It will not be a conservatism based on the old shibboleths that have insisted on absolute freedom from federal control. Instead, it will try to take advantage of the so-called "inevitable" trends in ways that would tend to satisfy the individual's demands for continuing dignity and integrity even in an age of Big Government, Big Unionism, and Big Business.

The opening salvo in this new approach to conservatism was fired recently in the House of Representatives by Robert Griffin of Michigan, of Landrum-Griffin legislation fame. In introducing a bill titled "Employee Civil Rights Act of 1965," Griffin accepted the probability that Big Labor has the Congressional votes to repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act. This is the section that leaves the authority to outlaw compulsory union shop agreements with the several states. In conceding that the maintenance of Right to Work laws is very likely a lost cause, Griffin still insists that the freedom of the worker to be himself and to retain all his historic civil liberties is of transcendent importance.

So what Griffin has done is to condition the repeal of 14B on the passage of a new national labor law which would render it unlawful for a compulsory union shop labor organization (a) to discriminate on account of race, color or creed, (b) to use union dues for political purposes or for any other purpose not related to collective bargaining, and (c) to fine or penalize a member for exercising any legal or civil right guaranteed by the U. S. Constitution. "Surely," says Griffin, "a Congress that is truly concerned about poverty and the economic plight of the Negro will not deliberately extend compulsory unionism into the very states where discrimination problems are the most serious unless individual workers are effectively protected against discrimination." Griffin quotes Justice William O. Douglas, a "liberal," to back up his argument — and makes provision in his bill for enforcement of workers' civil rights by federal district courts as well as by the National Labor Relations Board.

Behind the Griffin approach to maintaining the quality of American freedom even under conditions of enforced union membership one can see the hand of Michael J. Bernstein, who is leaving his post as chief Republican counsel on the Senate Labor Committee to take a comparable job on the House of Representatives side of Capitol Hill.

Mike Bernstein has been fighting for a long time to get conservatives to take a new tack that will enable them to cope with the modern age. He was the originator, back in 1961, of something that became briefly known as the "Goldwater Manifesto." In its effect, this Manifesto called for the adoption of specifically Republican alternatives in such areas as federal aid to education, medical care for those over sixty-five, help for depressed regions, and so on. But after accepting the Manifesto as his own, Goldwater never mentioned it again. The story of Mike Bernstein's disillusionment is delicately hinted at in a new book called "The Agony of the G.O.P.," by Washington reporter Robert Novak, who is a skilled chronicler of political infighting, but the tale of Bernstein's subsequent campaign to get conservatives to make a new qualitative approach to American problems has yet to be told.

What Bernstein insists upon is that if we are to have federal aid to education, for example, it must be federal aid to good education. It makes no sense to Bernstein to subsidize methods and textbooks that leave American students a full year behind their European opposite numbers at the end of the third grade.

Mike Bernstein is a Republican. Naturally, he finds it somewhat frustrating to see a new Democratic Senator, Bobby Kennedy of New York, taking up his qualitative line when questioning witnesses on the need for federal aid to schools and "poverty - impacted regions." But if Bobby Kennedy is to be the spearhead for a movement to maintain conservative quality in American life, we'll have to accept it with gratitude.

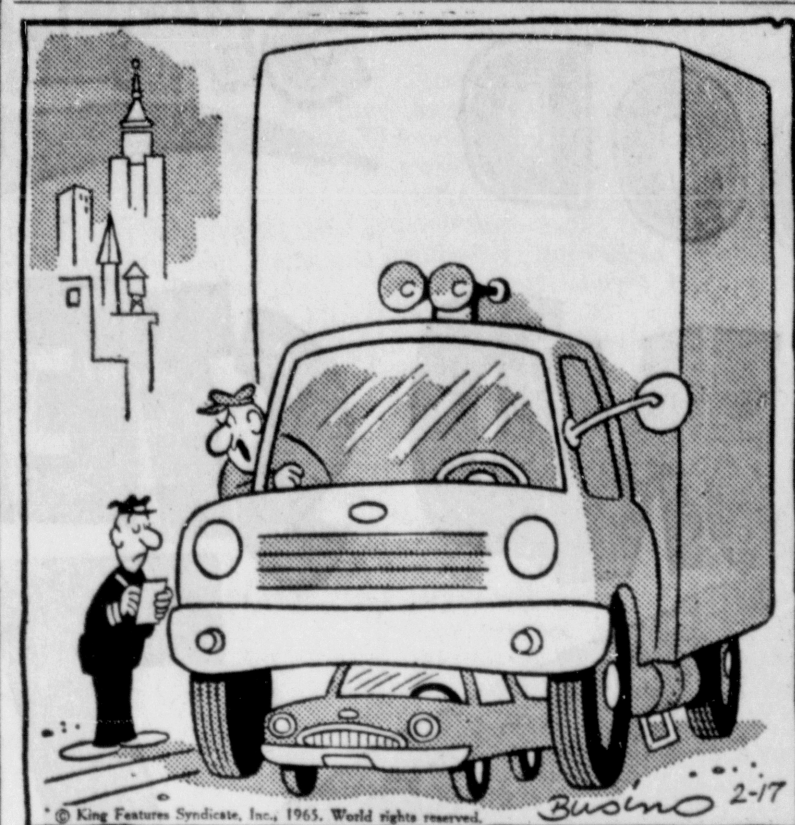

City Income Tax Eyed By Cleveland Chiefs

CLEVELAND (AP) — City Council will vote March 1 on a request by Mayor Ralph S. Locher to put a three-fourths of one per cent income tax issue on the May 4 primary election ballot.

The mayor estimated his proposed income tax would bring in $19.5 million a year and pledged to use part of the income to reduce property taxes. Finance Director Edward C. Knuth said as much as $7.5 million annually might be cut off property taxes, which would reduce the city tax rate by 2.75 mills.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A PROFESSOR, lecturing to a Freshman class in law school, opened one session by telling this story: "A group of convicts went hunting and chased a raccoon into a hollow tree. They built a fire to smoke him out, but out bounded a wildcat. They took after it, but it got away, biting one of the dogs and scratching one of the men in the process. The men moved on, shot a wild turkey, killed a couple of snakes, got lost, and didn't reach home until the next morning."

One student interrupted at this point to ask, "But Professor, what became of the raccoon?" "Good work," beamed the prof. "You'll make a good lawyer, my boy. Don't allow any smart aleck to switch you off the main line of evidence."

A party of hunters finally talked their cook into going with them while they tracked down a huge grizzly. "All right, I'll go," he conceded reluctantly, "but if you get wrestling with that bear, and you look 'round and don't see nobody, that's me."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Is there any way to avoid the feeling of a blocked ear while flying in an airplane?

The "blocked ear" sensation is not often felt while the plane is airborne. It occurs most frequently during take-off and landing.

Improved, modern methods of pressurizing aircraft have greatly reduced the discomfort, but this distressing sensation may still sometimes occur.

Chewing and swallowing may be helpful. Sometimes spraying the nose just before take-off and again before landing may alleviate the blocked feeling.

Flying with severe nasal colds is not a good idea. There is always a possibility that the pressure of ascent or descent may force the infection from the nose into the middle ear.

What is a biopsy?

To establish an accurate diagnosis, it is sometimes necessary to remove a small piece of tissue for laboratory study under a microscope. The painless removal of this tissue for analysis and testing is called a biopsy.

This simple procedure determines the exact nature of the tissue and provides valuable information for diagnosis and choice of treatment.

Is it possible to become deaf from an overdose of antibiotics? Deafness is sometimes produced by a high degree of sensitivity or allergy to a particular antibiotic, rather than from an overdose.

Streptomycin is the only antibiotic which has been known to affect the auditory nerve of hearing.

But a harmful effect on the nerve of hearing from the use of this antibiotic or other drug occurs rarely—very rarely.

The physician who prescribes a drug makes his choice with care and discriminating judgment. He takes into consideration the medical history and the particular condition of the individual patient.

Serious reactions occur so rarely that fear of side-effects must not dissuade the use of drugs prescribed by a doctor.

In taking any drug, the exact directions of the physician must be meticulously followed.

Is it safe for anyone over 70 to have a prostate operation? Age itself does not determine the safety of a prostate operation or any other operation.

The general condition of the patient—heart, lungs and blood pressure—is the important factor.

The safety of modern anesthesia and improved surgical techniques have greatly diminished the potential risks of surgery in the elderly.

Physicians and surgeons meticulously balance the advantages of surgery against any possible risk.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Booming industrial production tells a story of a record four-year climb to unparalleled prosperity. But the component parts of the Federal Reserve Board's index reveal marked differences in pace.

Output of utilities has soared. Mining has trailed. In manufacturing, business equipment has been the big gainer. By comparison, production of nondurable goods has had only an average increase.

The index, which often acts as a fever chart for the whole economy, hit a record high in January of 137.7 per cent of the 1957-59 average which is used as a base of 100.

In January 1961, and again in February of that year, when the last recession was at its bottom level, the index was around 102.

The big climb from 102 to nearly 138 in four years is impressive in itself. What may be even more significant is the gain in the last 12 months, the fourth year of the present economic upswing.

By all previous experience the aging upturn should have been slowing down. Instead, since January 1964 the index has risen 10 points.

And the activity in most of the nation's industries today points to a continuation of the index rise this month. The big shadow is what effect the long dock strike in Atlantic and Gulf ports may have had on producers of goods for export, and on those that import materials to keep their plants busy.

By industrial groups, the gains of the last 12 months stack up like this: All manufacturing moved from 128.5 of the 1957-59 base average to 139.1. The durable goods section did the best, from 128.1 to 140.8. Nondurable goods had a more sober climb, from 128.9 to 137.0.

Mining production rose only slightly, from 108.8 in January 1964 to 112.0 last month. But utilities kept up the pace that has put them well ahead of other mining or manufacturing. Utility output in the 12 months rose from 144.5 of the base period to 153.0.

By market groupings, consumer goods make up 32 per cent of the total index. In the last 12 months they climbed steadily from 128.9 to 137.2. Output of business equipment however was gaining much faster, from 132.9 to 147.0. Production of business equipment accounts for but 5 per cent of the total index.

And in industry groupings, the soaring utilities account for just 5 per cent. Lagging mining accounts for 8 per cent. Durable goods manufacturing is 48 per cent of the total and nondurables 39 per cent.

Lesson in Double-Talk

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Heaven created the possibility of a perfect language — but man invented double-talk.

Double-talk is ideally suited to man's needs, as it permits him to mask his motives by saying one thing while he is thinking another.

It is said by some that a better world would result if the people had a language that would enable them to communicate with each other perfectly. Actually, this really isn't so.

If we all were completely honest and told our innermost thoughts about each other some bright spring morning, by nightfall no one would be speaking to anyone else and the moon would shine down on an earth in bloody shambles.

Double-talk is a necessary bridge of hypocrisy we must employ to get our business done until the time comes when hypocrisy will no longer be needed.

Here are a few samples of conventional double-talk, followed by their real meanings: "Our small country is eternally grateful to the United States for the grain and tools of peace it has supplied us." And now, if we can just get some weapons and military advisers from Russia or Red China we can start war on our capitalistic neighbors.

"It was so nice of you to remember my birthday, dear." How come you had amnesia last year?

"The thing I admire about you, Jim, is that you never lose your head when things go wrong." You're too dumb to realize the situation.

"We finally decided against sending Junior to Harvard. It has become so dreadfully parochial." Yale won't take him either — and neither will the U.S. Marines.

"Try sitting in this chair. I think you'll find it much more comfortable." The one you're sprawled in now is an antique — and cost me $150.

"And let me show you our new model 6 1/2-room apartment with the oversized foyer." It has 4 1/2 rooms — if you count the kitchen twice.

"If you're looking for growth possibilities, I'd recommend a little flyer on this stock." I'm stuck with 1,000 shares of it myself.

"If it weren't for you dearest, I don't know what I'd be." Just happy and single.

"It won't be any trouble. I'll be glad to take care of your goldfish while you're away on vacation." I'll even get my cat to help me.

"I can personally guarantee this used car is in the best condition of any on the lot. I got it from an old maid who hardly ever took it out of the garage." Every time she did, she got picked up for drunken driving.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

Chicago may soon get a new office skyscraper that tapers inward as it rises, according to an article in a financial journal a sort of Egyptian pyramid, complete with elevators?

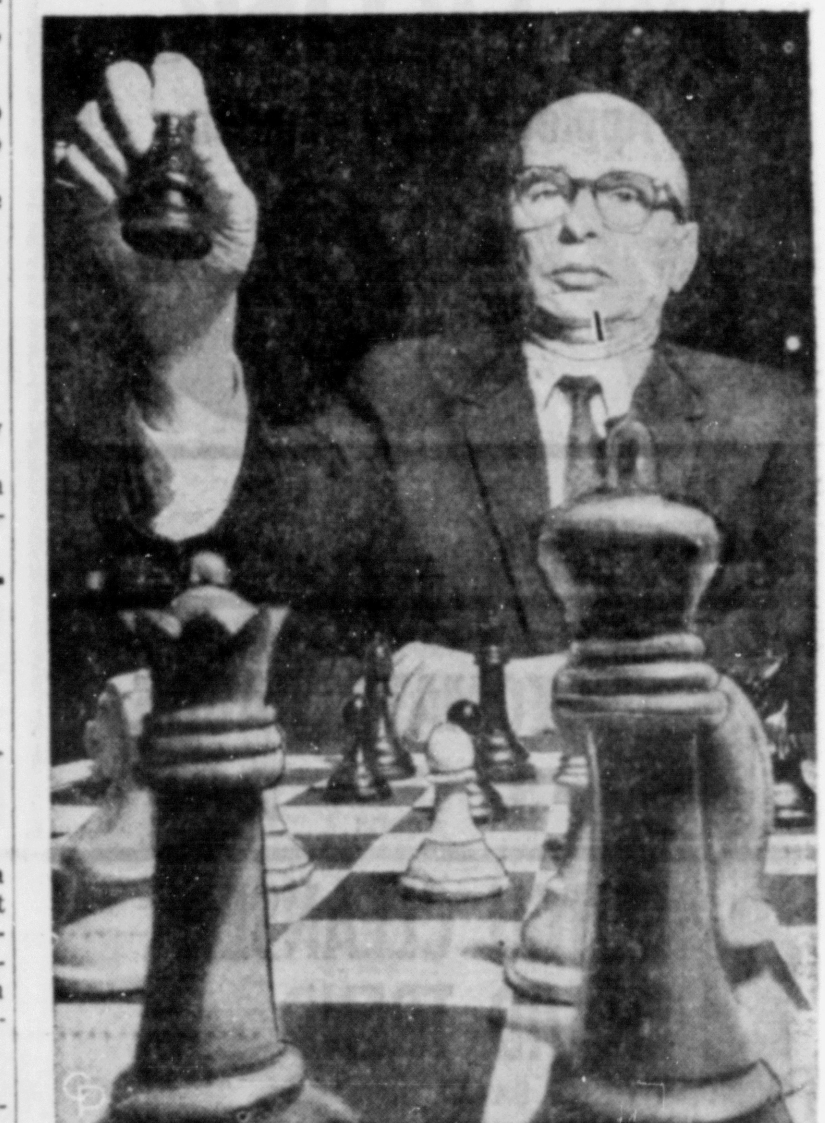

It's about time office buildings got a new look. We're pretty tired of gazing at all those giant ice-cube structures — especially in the wintertime.

Meanwhile, we read that some African termite mounds are 20 feet tall. Who'd ever guess those little bugs invented the skyscraper?

Rhodes Pledges Antipoverty Participation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes has vowed Ohio's "full participation" in the federal Appalachia and anti-poverty programs.

The governor told representatives of 28 Ohio counties involved in the Appalachia program that "we're in this program to the hilt."

He ended a day-long session here attended by more than 150 persons by pointing out that the two programs were distinctly different.

"Appalachia is strictly a state and federal proposition," the governor said. "It's a program that can cost the state anywhere from 30 to 50 per cent of the entire bill."

"But the antipoverty program is your program and originates in your community."

Rhodes' summation concluded two separate sessions at which a score of federal and state officials briefed those attending on the mechanics of the two programs.

Among the speakers were George Stevens, deputy director of Appalachia program; Kenner Bush, assistant publisher of the Athens Messenger who presided at the morning session; William Bosman of the federal Office of Economic Opportunity; Albert Giles, head of the Ohio Office of Opportunity; Willard Dudley, director of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation; Denver White, state director of welfare, and Dr. Vernon R. Alden, president of Ohio University and head of the Ohio Regional Development Council.

Dudley undoubtedly delivered the most impassioned plea when he said "we can only cure poverty if we can motivate these people to help themselves. Nobody knows the potential of these people. Let's join hands and make this thing work."

Bush announced later that a representative from each county would meet with state officials here in the next few days to attempt to draft a highway program for the area to be presented to federal officials.

Rhodes had urged county officials participating in the program to agree on a route for a highway through the southeastern Ohio area.

Stevens predicted that Congress would pass the Appalachia bill by early next month.

He referred to Appalachia as "the most exciting development program ever formed in the United States."

He stressed that Appalachia is an economic development program, "not a welfare program," and said the states have "a grave responsibility in setting up good projects because this is a state-federal partnership."

Bosman said "the government antipoverty bill is complex and the solution is complex. We have no overnight answers on how to eliminate poverty."

He called for the representatives to go home and organize community action programs. He described these programs as the heart of the antipoverty drive and pointed out that where programs are approved, the federal government would pay 90 per cent of the costs.

Giles said the state was ready to provide technical assistance to any community. He said metropolitan areas already had scored success with some programs.

Priest Gets K of C Award

Rev. Father John Marquis, assistant at St. Joseph's Church, was presented the Knight of the Month award Monday evening during a meeting of Hanan Council, Knights of Columbus.

Father Marquis received special recognition for his devotion as fraternal activities chairman and for his participation in all sports events of the council.

Following the meeting, a mock trial was conducted with the following members taking part: Tom Shea, Ralph May, David Crawford, Dallas Elliott Jr., Jack Barry and Bill Rich.

A report of a successful open house held Saturday evening with 22 couples in attendance was given by Paul Schillinger, general activities chairman.

Guests attending the meeting from Chillicothe were E. James Groeber, William Wundland and Robert Blair.

In City Council

Legislation at Minimum; Committee Work Results

Legislation was at a minimum last night in City Council, although five ordinances and one resolution were on the clerk's desk at meeting time.

Enactment amounted to the passage of one ordinance. One measure was limited to first reading, one was held pending a public hearing and the others were referred to appropriate committees for more study.

The one ordinance gaining passage authorized consulting engineers to prepare plans for a second well at the new city water plant site.

The engineering firm of Burgess and Niple will be employed to prepare plans and specifications. The firm also will supervise the drilling after the bid for the project has been duly awarded.

ERVIN LEIST, public utilities manager, described the need for a second well. He explained it as a project that looks into the future relative to water needs here. He said the second facility will compensate the one that is now in operation at the new plant.

A measure amending the city's current bicycle ordinance was referred back to Police Chief Robert Temple for review and addition of certain provisions.

The amendment, centered on bicycle registration and inspection, is being sponsored by the local Bicycle Safety Committee. Solicitor Kenneth Robbins suggested the measure include actual inspection standards and requirements prior to enactment.

Members of the Bicycle Safety Committee consider the amendment a means of instilling the values and necessity of safety measures upon young bike riders.

The legislative proposal set for public hearing pertains to an amendment requesting the rezoning of the Marfield property on E. Main St.

The amendment would rezone the property from a Class B multiple residence district to a Class C commercial district. A hearing on the request has been set for 8 p. m. April 6, in Council Chambers.

THE Third National Bank has made overtures to purchase the Marfield property as a possible site for future banking facilities. The City Planning and Zoning Commission has recommended the premises be rezoned. Comprising the area are lots 221, 222 and 42 feet off the south side of lot 223.

Details of the rezoning request are on file with the council clerk for public inspection. The hearing will be conducted at least 30 days following required legal advertising.

An ordinance seeking the appropriation of $15,000 for improving existing facilities at the Sewage Department plant was held to first reading. Passage was blocked, temporarily at least, after questions arose concerning bid advertising procedure.

Utilities Manager Leist outlined the improvements by specific jobs and described estimated costs of each. Solicitor Robbins questioned the legality of this breakdown procedure and its relationship to seeking bids.

Leist countered by saying the breakdown method was being utilized to save time and money, and that bids would be sought on specific jobs as required by law.

Leist outlined improvements that will be needed to conduct the Sewage Department's new chemical treatment system. They include an outside storage bin for lime, chemical feeder, certain piping facilities, sediment tank work and cleaning out lagoon beds.

THE UTILITIES head said engineers have estimated the total cost at about $25,000. However, he said a study conducted by plant supervisor Roy Hawks and himself disclosed the projects could be completed for approximately $15,000.

An ordinance requesting a pay raise for City Service Department hourly wage employees was submitted but not introduced. The measure was directed to the finance and service committees for study.

A similar decision was reached on a resolution covering a report submitted by the North Storm Sewer Equalizing Board. Members of the panel have completed a study of the controversial project that lists suggested changes and recommendations.

The report was turned over to solon Joe Bell and his service committee. Action on the recommendations is likely at the next Council session.

An ordinance submitted by a local citizen seeking remuneration for damages incurred at his property during a flushing of sewers was earmarked for a more detailed study. This measure also will be reviewed by the service committee.

Today Is Very Big Day for Miami University

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—It's a good thing the Miami University convocation is in the morning, or Gov. James A. Rhodes and Dr. Phillip R. Shriver might well lose the spotlight to Miami's basketball team.

As it is, the governor receives his doctor of laws degree shortly after 11 a.m. and the student body gets their first look at Miami's new president about the same time. The ceremony is scheduled to end hours before the Miami Redskins go into action at Ohio University in a game that probably will clinch the Mid-American Conference basketball title.

The convocation to observe the 156th anniversary of Miami's founding also brought here several legislators and members of Rhodes' cabinet, the presidents of the other five state universities and Dr. John D. Millett, who resigned last to become the first chancellor-director of the Ohio Board of Regents.

Old records show 17 other governors of Ohio have been honored by Miami since 1885. These include Rhodes' predecessor Michael V. Disalle, present U. S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche and William McKinley who went on to become President of The United States in 1896.

Dr. Shriver, now dean of the college of arts and sciences at Kent State University, was chosen Feb. 7 to serve as Miami's 17th president. He will take office July 1.

Besides Millett, the academic procession was to include presidents William Travers Jerome III of Bowling Green, Charles H. Wesley of Central State, Robert I. White of Kent State, Novice G. Fawcett of Ohio State and Vernon Alden of Ohio University, the state's oldest institute of higher education.

Coach Dick Shriver's Redskins, who missed the ceremony, went to Athens with a 10-0 conference record. Ohio is 8-1 in the conference, and if the Bobcats avenge their earlier defeat at the hands of Miami, the conference's berth in the NCAA tournaments will probably be settled by a playoff.

Honor Roll Student

A Circleville student at Wayne State College, Nebraska, earned a position on the college's Dean's Honor Roll for the first semester.

Donald Hurley achieved the academic honor by maintaining at least a 3.0 average for the first semester.

Miss Scott, Mr. Brown Exchange Wedding Vows

MRS. RICHARD E. BROWN

Miss Sharon Kathleen Scott of Ashland and Washington, D. C. and Mr. Richard E. Brown, were united in marriage 6 p. m. Jan. 30 in the First Congregational Church, Washington, D.C. The Rev. S. T. Sturgill performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Hogue Scott and Mr. Robert A. Scott, both of Ashland, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Kathleen Scott, Circleville. Mr. Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Brown, Ft. Atkinson, Wis.

For her wedding the bride wore a white wool chiffon suit with white accessories and a chapel veil of Alencon lace. She carried a bouquet of fringed white daisies and lily of the valley.

Mrs. George Clifford, Arlington, Va., was matron of honor. She wore a pale pink tulle suit with matching pillbox hat, pink accessories, and carried a colonial nosegay of tiny painted daisies and stephanotis.

Mr. George Clifford served as best man.

The bride was graduated from Ashland High School, attended Agnes Scott College and was graduated from the University of Kentucky with a degree in political science. She is a member of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority. The new Mrs. Brown is a producer of news and information programs for a radio and television station in Washington D.C.

Mr. Brown graduated from high school in Cincinnati, and is presently a senior at Texas A & M, where he is majoring in aerospace engineering.

Until her husband's graduation, Mrs. Brown will reside in Arlington Va.

Calvary WSWs Holds Brunch

There were 21 members and two guests present for a brunch and meeting held recently by the WSWs of Calvary EUB Church in the annex.

Mrs. Louise Niswender and Frances Davis were hostesses. Evelyn DeLong, president, conducted the meeting.

Eleanor Wilson, secretary of spiritual life announced World Service Day will be observed Feb. 28. A student from Otterbein College will be the speaker.

Mrs. Niswender reported that the youth are working on the self denial and the money will go toward building a lounge at Red Bird Mission.

Mrs. Russell Archer led the program, "New Nations in Southeast Asia." Four panelists representing countries in Asia were, Toots Carothers, Ruth

Wedding Plans Are Announced

Miss Roberta Galvin of Wilmington, bride-elect of Mr. Richard Davis, Circleville, was guest of honor Saturday at an afternoon tea conducted to announce the date of the couple's wedding.

Mrs. Gilbert W. Wilkin and Mrs. Luella Babb, Wilmington, were hostesses for the event. A large red velvet heart with pink net around it announced the date in gold letters. A Valentine theme was used in the decorating.

The wedding will take place 11 a.m. April 24 in St. Columbkille Church, Wilmington. Mrs. Richard Neal of New Richmond will be matron of honor. Mrs. Roger A. Hadley, St. Louis, Mo., and Miss JoAnn Hale, Wilmington, will be bridesmaids.

Mr. Thomas W. Rodenfels, N. Court St., will serve as best man. Mr. William John Galvin, brother of the bride-elect, and Mr. Kenneth Eugene Davis, brother of the prospective bridegroom, will be ushers.

Miss Galvin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne W. Galvin, Wilmington. Mr. Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Davis, W. High St.

Miss Shepard Engaged to Mr. Arnold

MISS BARBARA J. SHEPARD

Mr. Robert D. Shepard, Bucyrus, and Mrs. Dorothy Shepard, Columbus, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Jane, to Mr. Kenneth Michael Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Arnold, Route 1.

The bride-elect resides with relatives in Kingston where she is a senior at Kingston High School. She is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Shepard of Kingston.

Mr. Arnold is a 1964 graduate of Logan Elm High School and is employed by Lincoln Molded Plastics Inc., Circleville.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Supper Scheduled

The session closed with group singing and prayer.

Dear Abby: Don't Waste Time!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Blank and I are very much in love and we have been planning to get married sometime this summer. Now we are going to have to get married as soon as possible. How should I tell my mother?

JUMPED THE GUN

DEAR JUMPED: Tell her in English - and fast.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem. It's not new, I am sure you get hundreds of such letters every day. In my case, I thought I was the last person in the world this would happen to. After 13 years of what my husband has always told me was an "ideal" marriage for him (and it was for me, too). I learned that he has a paramour. This woman is older than he and she became interested in him after her husband died suddenly.

Abby, how can a man love two women? He maintains he doesn't love me any less that he always has, but that he is capable of loving two women at the same time. Is this possible? I am desperate. My husband is a professional man and I dare not give you my name, but I want to know what I should do.

HUSBAND LOVES TWO

DEAR WIFE: Yes, a man can be in love honestly (if not honorably) with two women at the same time. But his relationship with you has been tested in fair weather and foul and has survived. "She" is something new, perhaps flattering and exciting, but likely to fade. He wants both the steady and the heady benefits of love. Don't let him feed his greed. Ask him to choose. And I'll bet on you. If I am wrong, keep those legal ties. He'll come out of orbit and back to the hearth. It's worth the gamble.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you can put some sense into my son's head. I give up. He is 23 and fell in love with a widow who is 33. She has five children, but I must say she is very pretty, she doesn't look her age. He's known her for two years and has gone with her for one. He earns a good living and this woman has a steady income whether she marries him or not. I begged her to give up my son and find an older man, she said she "loves" him and couldn't do it. They all go to church together on Sunday and people stare at them because he doesn't look old enough to be the father of those five children. He says he is proud to be by her side. His father and I warned him to find a younger woman because divorce isn't permitted in our church. What will he do in a few years when he realizes he made a mistake?

HIS MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: IF it is proven that your son goffed in marrying a "pretty" widowed mother of five children whom he loves and enjoys it will be his problem. YOUR problem is to refrain from poisoning a relationship that appears inevitable.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JULIAN:
NA: A real friend is one who helps us to think our noblest thoughts, put forth our best efforts and to be our best selves. Is he yours?

Motorist Found Dead In Submerged Auto

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Mahoning County Coroner Dr. David A. Belinky is to rule on the death of a 27-year-old Youngstown man who was found in the back seat of his car in 30 feet of water at the bottom of McKelvey Lake.

Scuba divers recovered the body of Donald G. Oshelski Tuesday after the auto went through a guard rail on the old section of Jacobs Road Monday and plunged through the ice into the lake. Friends told police Oshelski had a condition that made him blackout at times.

Freezer storage life for most sandwiches is about three weeks, so if you are having a party and choose fillings that are suitable for freezer storage, you can prepare the sandwiches to be served in good time.

Marines Prep For Viet Reds

CAMP COURTNEY, Okinawa (AP) — U.S. Marines training here are getting a good idea of what fighting is like in the Communist-infested jungles of South Viet Nam.

The Marines, striking force of the U.S. 7th Fleet, receive 10 days of rigorous indoctrination in the rugged northern end of this Pacific island during their 13-month tour here.

They are pitted against the "aggressors" — guerrilla forces in the black uniforms of the Viet Cong — and are subject to ambush at a time. They must be on the lookout for any one of the many traps used by the Viet Cong.

During the first six days of the exercise, the Marines explore a mock village nearly identical to the compounds in Viet Nam. Then in the final four days they go into a mountainous, jungled area with only enough food and blank ammunition for two days.

Helicopters bring supplies for the remaining two days, but if the Marines are "hit" by the aggressors or have not been performing well, they may be called upon to do without the supplies.

"This method is pure motivation," says Maj. Joseph Paratore, who runs the school. "If they know that a poor showing will result in a couple of hungry days, they are much more likely to do the best job possible."

Paratore says that the training here could be applied to guerrilla warfare conditions almost anywhere.

The weather can be cold and nasty this time of year in northern Okinawa. The instructors tell the Marines that a cold, rainy night is the best time for a guerrilla attack.

Paratore says that there is no let up during the 10-day period. The men might go many hours without sleep or food.

Skirmishing Is Started For Bliss' Ohio Position

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — While Ray C. Bliss is busy preparing to take over as Republican national chairman April 1, quit skirmishing is mounted among those hoping to influence selection of successor to head the state GOP committee.

The activity may cause Bliss to call the committee into session earlier than previously planned to receive his resignation and pick up a new state chairman, according to party insiders.

Bliss, state chairman for 16 years, already has told committee members he expects them to name a full-time successor to serve after he replaces Dean Burch as national chairman.

Reports from over the state indicate that Kent B. McGough, Lima insurance man, has been the most active in lining up support for Bliss' job.

McGough, Allen County GOP chairman since 1954, explained that he had "been around seeing some people" without making any definite announcement of candidacy.

"Most have indicated they were hopeful that I would make a try for the job," McGough said. "There has been no jelling of opinion," he added.

McGough got an early boost when U. S. Rep. William M. McCulloch, Piqua republican in the 4th Congressional District, touted him for chairman.

Until then, John S. Andrews of Toledo, Lucas County chairman who formerly worked with Bliss in state headquarters here, was accorded the inside track.

Andrews said he has adopted a "wait-and-see" attitude.

"I said at the outset that I was not going to do any campaigning because it is not proper for a position of this kind until a vacancy exists," Andrews explained. "All I am doing is sitting tight until the lay of the committee meeting."

Both Andrews and McGough said they have not discussed the matter with either Bliss or Gov. James A. Rhodes, who has declared a hands-off policy towards the chairmanship.

And the county chairmen insist they will act to avoid a fight in committee over a successor to Bliss. Both are committee members and said they play to attend the session.

McGough added that if Bliss or the governor have anyone in mind for the post, he "would abide by that."

Others mentioned to succeed Bliss included H. Richard P. Niehoff of Columbus, Republican State Finance Committee chairman, and Saul G. Stillman of Cleveland, county vice chairman.

Franklin County Chairman William Schneider and Congressman Samuel Devine, Columbus Republican, endorsed Niehoff but later reports indicated that he has been urged by those close to Bliss to continue as party fund-raiser.

Stillman said he has the backing of A. L. DeMaio, GOP chairman of Cuyahoga County which has eight members on the state committee.

Current expressions of support for possible opponents of Andrews and McGough have been described in party circles as "holding action" until end direction can be determined.

The 46-member state committee is composed of a man and woman elected in each of Ohio's 23 congressional district. Twenty four votes are needed to elect a chairman.

Solons Okay Roadways in Subdivision

A resolution approving two roadways at the Oakpark Subdivision in Washington Twp. was adopted this week by the Board of County Commissioners. The streets constructed are Sherwood Court and Beechwood Road. Paul A. and Robert M. Johnson are the subdivision developers.

The resolution also provided for the release of a $3,000 performance bond posted by the developers as a guarantee for proper construction.

Acceptance of the roadways by the Commission means the roads will be dedicated and turned over to Washington Township's Board of Trustees. The Oakpark plat was approved and accepted by the county solons in 1962.

IN OTHER business the commissioners approved a Jackson Twp. plat submitted by John Weaver. The tract consists of 5.011 acres.

The section of land is located in the vicinity of the Circleville-London Northern and Hill Roads. The site was surveyed and platted by the local Dumond & Sifford firm.

The lawmakers approved the purchase of an electric floor scrubber and polisher for the Memorial Hall. It will be obtained from Gordon Auto Parts Main and Scioto Sts. at a cost of $283.25.

Help on Way For Lowly GI

U.S. Infantryman Is Overburdened

WASHINGTON (AP) — Relief is on the way for the overburdened infantryman, but he may have to trade protection for his lighter load.

The Army disclosed today it has approved the findings of an 18-month study seeking ways "to conserve the energy of the combat infantryman."

It has ordered its research and development authorities to press ahead with specifications for new equipment, giving priority to lightness over increased protection.

Army officers said considerations of weight versus protection may be applied to such equipment as helmets, armored vests and gas masks.

For example, the study proposes a small one-pound, expendable gas mask that would cover the eyes, nose and mouth and be held in place with a simple strap. The present mask weighs three times as much, including a carrier and a hood.

Armies have been trying to find ways to ease the burden on the infantryman, almost since the days of the Roman legions.

This is because, the Army says, the capability of an infantry soldier to fight is directly related to the load he has to carry.

Ideally, the Army said, a soldier ought not to have to carry more than about 40 pounds. The combat load of U.S. soldiers now is around 72 pounds.

The latest study began in February 1963 and was approved by Army headquarters last September.

Conducted at Ft. Benning, Ga., it stressed that commanders and their staffs do their utmost to eliminate unnecessary chores that waste the energy of front-line troops.

A major proposal calls for development of load-carrying devices, possibly a form of rugged cart, either man-powered, mechanically powered, or a combination of both.

Another idea called for development of an 8- to 10-ounce concentrated food package the soldier can carry with him.

Canned combat rations now in use are not considered satisfactory for use as a battle meal due to their excessive weight, bulk and awkward shape, the study said.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — It looks too slick to be an accident. If it's no accident then what occurred in Viet Nam takes on new meaning and the Red Chinese have sought to make fools of the Russians by dragging them into ugly relations with the United States.

Briefly, the point of what follows is two events oceans apart. Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin was in North Viet Nam when the United States bombed it; and Red China's little ally, Albania, tried to force an American-Soviet showdown.

The Soviet Union and Red China have been on bitter outs, supposedly because of their ideological differences: China insists on far more aggressiveness towards the West; the U.S.S.R. preaches peaceful coexistence.

But the split probably goes far beyond ideology. For example: the nationalism of the two peoples and the long-range ambitions of the two giants which lie side by side in Asia.

The Soviet Union has called a March 1 conference in Moscow for Communist parties. This meeting could lay the groundwork for broad discussions of ideological differences which have torn the Communist world apart.

Red China refuses to attend. It would be the gainer, and look the wiser, if before March 1 something happened to drive the Soviet Union into a renewed hostility towards the West.

Remembering what this would mean to China, look at this: With the Moscow meeting less than a month away, Kosygin, after stopping off briefly in China, made his first trip to Communist North Viet Nam. He had hardly arrived when an extraordinary event happened.

Red guerrillas, warring in South Viet Nam but with their base in North Viet Nam, pulled their most spectacular exploit in years: they attacked a U.S. air base, killing and wounding Americans and wrecking planes.

President Johnson promptly ordered some bases in North Viet Nam bombed. Since that happened shortly after Kosygin's visit to Red China, this question can reasonably be asked: If the Red Chinese and North Vietnamese wanted to put Kosygin on the spot — he went to North Viet Nam to state Soviet support — could they have figured Johnson would respond to the air base attack with a bombing?

The answer is yes. When North Vietnamese PT boats attacked American destroyers last August, and he ordered their bases in North Viet Nam bombed, he told the American people: Acts of violence against American armed forces "must be met with... positive reply." Kosygin's government had been trying to maintain fairly friendly relations with the United States. But for North Viet Nam to be bombed while he was there on an aid mission, put the Soviet Union in an embarrassing position, and particularly with the whole Communist world.

He and his colleagues responded with the expected: they issued warnings that they would help North Viet Nam without saying how, when or where. All this could have been an accident.

Or — it could have been a product of Red Chinese and North Vietnamese scheming. Then something else happened Tuesday at the United Nations where Red China is not a member but its little European ally, Albania, is.

The Soviet Union had not been paying its full U.N. dues. The United States wanted it to. A showdown could wreck the world organization. The showdown would have to come on a vote of the General Assembly.

To avoid a blowup earlier this year, the assembly decided on a simple device: it would transact its business without voting directly on anything.

Tuesday Albania demanded this end and that voting begin. Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, said it looks as "if some people want to wreck it." Asked if he thought Red China was behind it, he said, "I guess so."

All this could have been coincidence. Maybe.

Biked It to Jail

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Howard Douglas, 38, escaped from Sarasota County Jail in style. He took a taxi.

His luck played out the next day, after he shifted vehicles. Police spotted Douglas riding a bicycle and returned him to jail where he had been serving a worthless check sentence.

Copper Canyon in Mexico Is Great Natural Wonder

By JEROME ROLLAND
Central Press Association

MEXICO CITY Most Mexicans have just recently become aware of one of nature's great wonders in the shape of a gorge formed countless centuries ago in the tall mountains of the Sierra Occidental range in the state of Chihuahua.

Tarahumara Indians, as well as tourists in search of adventure, roam through this region — the Indians in search of wild animals and their skins — the tourists and explorers seeking picturesque sites and the mineral wealth that lies beneath the rugged rocks.

Presbyterian Chief Cites Church 'Failure'

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—The first Negro moderator of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S., Dr. Elder G. Hawkins of Bronx, N.Y. says churches have fallen down on the job in the area of education. Dr. Elder addressed an inter-faith banquet of about 300 persons here Tuesday night.

"We can point with pride in this country to many accomplishments of the church in the field of civil rights but in one area, notably education, we have neglected our duties, and must accept the responsibility," he declared. He urged all faiths "to rededicate themselves in the war against intolerance, ignorance and hate."

Lycopersicon Esculentyn Boomed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Anyone for a nice fresh glass of nonpartisan lycopersicon esculentyn?

Even if you can't stand the stuff, drink it anyway — for Ohio's sake.

That seems to be the tongue-in-cheek reaction of some Ohio Democrats who until now have remained silent on a campaign by Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes to publicize Ohio as the No. 1 tomato state.

Sen. Charles J. Carney, Youngstown Democrat, introduced Tuesday what he said was an administration bill making "juice and pulp from the herb lycopersicon esculentum—tomato juice—the official state beverage."

Carney declined comment on reports that several Republican members of the dignified upper chamber refused to sponsor the measure.

"Maybe they did and maybe

The Canadian mountain recently named for President John F. Kennedy was discovered in 1935 by Dr. Bradford Washburn, leader of the National Geographic Society Yukon Expedition.

they didn't," Carney said, "but I am a public-minded citizen and if this will help produce more jobs as the administration says, I am for it. Anyway, we have a state flag, a state bird, a state motto—why not a state beverage?"

John M. McElroy, top aide of the governor, said he was unaware Carney would introduce the bill but added he is certain "the governor will welcome and support" any move to draw attention to tomato juice.

Rhodes has stated that his goal is to put Ohio tomato juice out front of California and Florida orange juice. His campaign includes an elaborate display in the statehouse rotunda which extols virtues of the products.

School Bus Bill Hearing Is Awaited

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An overflow crowd is expected to jam the legislative hearing room tonight as the Ohio House Education Committee begins deliberations on the controversial school bus bill.

The largest room available to committee members seats an estimated 200. They said a continuing heavy flow of mail on the issue indicated a turnout far larger.

Rep. B. A. Broughton, R-Geauga, heads the committee which will hear testimony on the measure requiring school boards to provide bus transportation for parochial and private school students.

Members of both houses have been deluged with letters from constituents with most of them, two to one or more, urging defeat of the compulsory measure.

Another bill permitting but not requiring school boards to provide such service is pending in the House, but has not been called up for a hearing.

Highlighting brief floor sessions in both chambers Tuesday was a proposed constitutional amendment to permit horse race sweepstakes.

Rep. Julius Petrash, D-Cuyahoga, sponsored the proposal which he said would provide $40 million a year for education. He said his estimate was based on the New Hampshire sweepstakes which produce some $12 million a year for schools in that state.

Another Cleveland Democrat, Rep. Joseph J. Horvath, offered a bill requiring a minimum lapse of 120 days between conviction of a killer and his execution.

Horvath said the four-month period would permit time for a new trial motion in the event new evidence was uncovered.

The chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court would be permitted to fill vacant municipal judgeships, with the appointee to serve until the next election, under a measure introduced by Rep. Carlton Davidson, R-Lawrence.

In the upper chamber, eight bills were introduced including one by Sen. Tenyson Guyer, R-Findlay, to require the use of reflectorized auto license plates.

Sens. David T. Matia, Anthony F. Novak, and Ray T. Miller Jr., all D-Cuyahoga introduced a bill permitting sale of liquor by the drink between 1 p.m. and midnight on Sunday under the local option plan. An earlier Senate bill would permit such sales without a local vote.

Ohio Finance Wizard Is Handed Sentence

NEW YORK (AP) — A man known in Akron and Cleveland, Ohio, financial circles as the "doctor of sick industries," Sydney L. Albert, has been sentenced to three years in prison for stock fraud conspiracy.

Albert, of Akron, was sentenced in federal court Tuesday. The charge was based on illegal sale in 1956 of $5 million worth of unregistered securities of the Automatic Washer Co., an Iowa concern which Albert once headed. Albert, 57, was freed on $50,000 bail pending appeal. He was convicted in February, 1964.

By Miss Margaret Thomas

Fire destroyed a barn on the Carroll Minor farm on Kingston-Hallsville Road last Friday.

The Kingston Fire Department was on the scene almost immediately and managed to prevent the spread of flames to several other barns and buildings on the farm.

The loss was estimated at $5,000 to the building, and $4,500 to contents.

Mrs. Claude Reynolds entertained her euchre club at her home on Thursday evening.

Mrs. L. E. Kerns was first prize winner, Mrs. Charles Miller was second and Mrs. Cottie

Minor was low scorer.

Others present were Mrs. Besie Smith, Miss Floretta Smith, Mrs. Reece Siberell, Mrs. Ella Minor, Mrs. Gayle Friece and Mrs. Grace Francis. A dessert course was served.

The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Friece.

Superintendent A. E. Gower has submitted his resignation to the Ross County board of education, effective July 31. He has been Ross County superintendent for 28 years. He came here from Darke Co. in 1937. Mr. Gower is now in a Columbus hospital recuperating from Fred Jones, a 1955 Kingston High School graduate and a 1964 graduate of Ohio University, is now a coach at Clarksburg. He had worked for two years and served four years in the U. S. Navy.

He decided to keep in step with the U.S. physical fitness program, and is using his free period to start a physical fitness program for younger pupils at Clarksburg, especially the fifth and sixth grades. Later he expects to give instruction to fourth graders.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Targee, he is married to the former Ruth Ann Delong. They are the parents of two children.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Trueman of Hamilton are announcing the birth of a son, born Feb. 11. He has been named Theodore Randolph. Mrs. Trueman (Janice Sunderland) is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sunderland.

Several members of the local Auxiliary of the American Legion were in Columbus Tuesday to see the "Dorothy Shay" show, and "Quick as a Wink." Mrs. O. H. Targee and her daughter Mrs. Nancy Walker, were chosen as contestants on the latter program, and were money winners.

They returned on Wednesday and also received a smaller amount of cash.

Others who attended the shows on Tuesday were Mrs. Walkers two children, Jody and Tracy, Mrs. Harper, Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. Paul Miller, Mrs. Ora Shepler, Mrs. Claude Reynolds and Mrs. Lawrence Betz.

Jack Sims left Friday for Hialeah, Fla., where he will visit for two weeks with his aunt, Mrs. M. E. Proctor, and his uncle, Mr. A.L. Harris.

Mrs. Myrtle Routt from Chillicothe enjoyed dinner Wednesday evening with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Routt. With her were her two grandsons from Kettering who were visiting her for the week, while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Quick were attending a convention in Miami.

'Baby' Star Is Given

Official Nod

WASHINGTON (AP) — Discovery of what may be the first real baby star — one apparently much smaller than the moon — was described Tuesday by the National Science Foundation.

Although seemingly a real pipsqueak as stars go — having roughly one-thousandth the diameter of the sun — the new-found dwarf shapes up as a heavenly heavyweight champ of sorts.

It apparently packs 300 tons of material per cubic inch if volume, more than 100 million times the density of water.

The NSF told about it in its annual report to the White House and Congress. It credited the find to Dr. Willem J. Luyten, a University of Minnesota astronomer doing research aided by an NSF grant.

There's no question about the discovery of the star, the report said. The only possible question is whether the distance to it has been figured accurately because that would have a bearing on computing its actual size.

As things stand, estimates are that the star, in the constellation Cetus, is some 288 trillion miles from the earth, and the light seen from it on any given night started coming to the earth about 48 years previously. Light from a star travels at 186,000 miles a second.

Here's Panorama Of Week's News

EDITOR'S NOTE — Carwashing problems in Los Angeles, a jail-built church, a liquor controversy in Utah, and an uproar over bovine scent in Arizona are among aspects of the American scene this week.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "We're not Communists," said the picket in front of the car wash. "But the Communists are the only ones who came along to help us. You see what I mean?"

The first union to fight to organize this car-crowded city's scores of automatic car washes is the Auto Maintenance Workers Union — headed by a university dropout who admits he's a Communist.

Nine widely separated car washes have now been struck by the union. Owners are keeping the businesses open, refusing to deal with the union because, they say, they won't deal with Communists.

"These men are the victims of capitalist exploitation," says Mike Laski, 23, former UCLA student and secretary of the AMWU. He says the car washers, who are mostly Negroes, are paid $1.15 an hour, work six or seven days a week and frequently don't get lunch breaks on busy days.

Laski has infuriated the employers earned the ire of old-line unions, and says he asks no help from the U.S. Communist party — which, he says, "has long since sold out to the capitalists."

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Robert Jones Jr. built a church in jail.

Jones, 45, folded more than 5,000 cigarette package wrappers to make his church a paper model of the Mt. Hermon Baptist church in Mansfield, which he attends.

He completed the project while serving an eight-month sentence for violation of probation in a burglary case.

Jones used red cigarette packages for the church walls and fashioned the roof from silver inner wrappers.

The church is 14 by 17 inches and is 13 inches tall, not counting a cardboard steeple and cross.

Jones furnished the interior with pews, an altar, a piano and an organ, all made of cardboard. He also put a small electric light inside.

The hardest part of the project, Jones said, was finding enough cigarette wrappers.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Does the sale of liquor in 1.6-ounce miniature bottles constitute an evil or an incentive to industry and tourism?

The question is being debated in Utah by the legislature, businessmen, sportsmen, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and others.

Utah permits sale of liquor only through state stores — and only in fifths or tenths. A bill pending in the legislature would allow restaurants to sell the miniature bottles, thus permitting a form of liquor-by-the-drink.

Hotel operators, resort owners and industrial leaders have lined up behind the bill. They contend the bottles would attract more tourists and more business investments to the state.

The Mormon Church, Utah's dominant faith, heads the opposition. Mormon precepts forbid consumption of alcohol in any form.

The church-owned Salt Lake Deseret News came out last week against the miniature bottles and most Utahns figured the bill was dead.

But State Sen. W. Hughes Brockbank, the principal sponsor, said in a speech the bill was "very much alive because it has merit, designed to put reason and effective control into our liquor laws in modern society."

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Cattle and their byproducts have been man's 24-hour companion in Arizona since the first white settlers moved in.

But some modern-day settlers can't appreciate certain aspects of the industry — such as the dust stirred up by thousands of cattle held in the 112 feedlots throughout the state or the aroma of cow sifting through the bright, sometimes sandy, air.

The dust problem was pretty well solved by new state regulations including the requirement for sprinkler systems in the feedlots.

Now, homeowners, particularly in tourist-rich suburbs of Phoenix area feedlots, are complaining about the smell. About 100 people signed a complaint.

The State Livestock Sanitary Board recommended that feedlots step up odor-control measures but conceded "if these lots are making an honest attempt to try everything available to stop the odor, no official action can be taken."

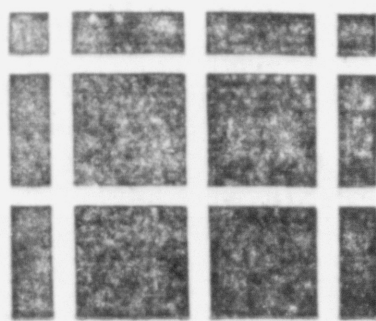

MEDAL 21 YEARS LATE—George Rader is surrounded by his happy children in Newark, N. J., as they display a photo of his Distinguished Flying Cross, which he was awarded 21 years ago and finally received. The children were a bit dubious about their father's medal—maybe it was just talk—so they wrote to the President asking why he never got it. So the wheels began to turn. The children are, from left: Sammy, 11; Ellen, 13; Sheila, 16; Andy, 7.

YELLOW BLOTCHES

O. K. hat causes yellow blotches to appear on the paper when reading?

A. In most cases it is probably due to contrast. Our eyes play tricks on us. Look at the center portion of the following figure.

Are you disturbed by spots at the points where the lines cross? The color of such spots, which are simply optical illusions, is determined by the illumination and by the color of the surface upon which the gaze is directed. In rare instances, blotchy vision may be due to the taking of certain drugs.

Rookie Cop Uncovers Plot By Bombers

After visiting the statue in New York harbor, Bowe bought a souvenir replica of it and was quoted as saying, "This is so easy we should split up and knock out the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia."

Said Murphy: "They also had a discussion concerning a simultaneous destruction of the Washington Monument, the Liberty Bell and the Statue of Liberty," adding: "We know they have made contacts in other cities. We have no idea how many people might be involved."

On Monday, Murphy said, Canadian royal police tipped that Miss Duclos had driven across the Canadian border in a car containing the dynamite and blasting caps. A police radio car took up the trail on the U.S. side and followed her to a parking lot on West 239th Street in the Riverdale section of the Bronx, an area of luxury apartments and private homes.

About 3:15 a.m., Murphy said, Wood met Miss Duclos at a West 120th Street rendezvous. About 8 a.m., Wood and Collier drove to the lot and started to transfer the dynamite and caps when police closed in.

"That is the end of it," Murphy said. Bowe was picked up by FBI agents at his home on East 10th Street, Manhattan. City detectives seized Sayeed in his father's Brooklyn delicatessen, and Miss Duclos was picked up as she left a West 81st Street building in Manhattan.

Wood was always in danger, a police official said, but never more so than when he was taken to Quebec with the plotters to buy dynamite there.

"He never even got a chance to tell us he was leaving the country," this official said. "We didn't know where he was. He couldn't risk contacting us. If he had been killed, we would not have known it."

"He was completely on his own with the most fanatic inner circle of the conspiracy mob."

The official said: "Wood did the greatest police job ever, his cover was so good the conspirators still don't know how we got the information."

Wood kept a diary of his undercover activities, but he had to get it out of his possession daily and into the hands of a police contact.

Miss Duclos, according to a United Nations official, tried to get employment at the United Nations early last month. He said she sought a post as a reader of U.S. documentary broadcasts in French, but apparently failed tests given her.

The tall blonde, wearing a black dress and coat, protested when she was held in $100,000 bail by U.S. Commissioner Earle N. Bishop.

"I am an honorable person," she said. "I have to work, sir. I am a reporter. I can't find that much bail."

Collier, after his arrest, was quoted as saying he plotted to blow up the American shrines because "I wanted to draw attention to the condition of my race."

Collier was a member of a student delegation that traveled to Cuba in 1964 in defiance of a State Department ban, and is the self-styled leader of the Black Liberation Front. He was being held by city police pending issuance of a federal warrant.

Bowe and Sayeed were held in $50,000 bail each.

Bowe, employed as a judo instructor, is a supporter of the pro-Castro Fair Play for Cuba Committee. Sayeed is a former student at Howard University School of Engineering in Washington, D.C.

Miss Duclos, Bowe and Sayeed all were charged with conspiracy to destroy federal property. Collier currently is charged under state laws with

Ohio Trucker, Wife Help Reduce February's Chill in Appalachia

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—February cold is a little easier to bear in the hills of Kentucky, thanks to a Port Clinton, Ohio, truck driver and his wife.

They didn't wear red and their sleigh was a 55-foot tractor-trailer rig but to 1,000 citizens of Weeksbury, Ky., Darrell and Adria Goff were Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus.

With 30,000 pounds of food and clothing from northern Ohio in their trailer they twisted over narrow rising roads in late January into the hills of Floyd County, Kentucky.

Darrell Goff was a strange Santa Claus, a 230-pound ex-wrestler, weightlifter, construction worker, delivery man, car salesman soldier and trucker with a big heart.

Sight of a small boy begging for a Christmas wagon on a television network documentary of Appalachia touched his memory of hardship. Darrell and Adria, both products of West Virginia coal field communities knew what the underground life could do to men's health. Darrell's father was among those made old before their time. It wasn't hard to visualize the hardship of the Kentucky hills.

There was excitement the afternoon their big, green truck pulled up the rain-slicked clay drive to Weeksbury Elementary School. Hundreds of adults and children ran to greet the Goffs and help unload the truck.

As they approached, the young parents of a seven-year-old daughter wondered about the television picture. "Could it really be this bad? Were there youngsters who walked barefooted through snow to school? Were there families which kept children from school because they could not properly clothe them?"

Moments later the answers began to unfold. The Ohioans saw the clothing, the hungered looks and heard the stories of meager means from Weeksbury mothers.

In two days they saw: Babies resting in cardboard box cribs, dirty rags for blankets.

The man bent and wheezing with silicosis. The once-able bodied worker with 10 children at home who would never work again after a mine accident.

The musician broke because no one had money to pay for his talents.

They also saw what their goods had done.

"I have never seen such joy and happiness in these homes," said William Robert Smith, teacher in Weeksbury School and minister of the Pentecostal Church of Christ.

On a tour of the two hollows that are Weeksbury they saw the homes where the Christian faith was strong despite adversity.

Weeksbury is in sharp contrast to the trim, well-painted neighboring town of Wheelwright. Weeksbury has died because the mine of Eastern Gas and Fuel worked out. Wheelwright flourishes because Inland Steel Mine there still produces coal.

'Appalachia Expedition' was the climax of a personal campaign of the Goffs. But Sente Trucking Co. of Toledo, fellow truck drivers, church groups, markets and bar room customers added their support.

Sente provided expenses and arranged for permits for the trip. Goff, a broker for Sente, owns his own truck.

Floyd County Board of Education arranged to receive the trip after Goff contacted Henry Sealf, editor of a weekly newspaper in Prestonsburg, Ky., county seat.

Teachers at Weeksbury distributed the goods.

Benefits won't be fleeting. Nearly $1,000 worth of food was included. This supplemented the school's lunch program, which feeds many children their only hot meal. More than 40 of the 200 children in the school can't afford to pay a cent for the meal.

Teachers packed boxes of clothes for those to distant or too shy to come to the school. Weeksbury teachers are a strange, dedicated breed. All could go elsewhere for better pay, but they stay. Their dedication and attachment to the people shine in the dark of Weeksbury despair.

Owens, a husband-wife team, the teachers worked nearly four hours supervising distribution.

Mrs. Owens is Weeksbury school principal and her husband is supervisor of Floyd County school system.

Any doubts about the trip were erased by every look into a youngster's face.

Doubts fluttered to the background when you watched a little boy stand two hours beside a box of toys. He never once reached for a toy. He simply stood, watched, guarded and waited, hoping for a toy.

The old-timer trying to express the community's gratitude broke into tears.

The woman with 12 children and the crippled husband put it simply: "It helped other people as much as it helped us, it sure was great."

Darrell and Adria Goff had no doubts.

Before they mounted their truck for the 450-mile drive home, they made their decision. They would appeal again to northern Ohio who answered the first call.

They would return.

Teays Valley Hands Sabina 61-44 Defeat in Finale

Teays Valley, behind Bill Fortner's 18-point effort, defeated visiting Sabina, 61-44, last night in the final game of the regular season for the Vikings.

It was the third loss for the Clinton County quintet. The Vikings ended their season with a 14-3 overall record.

The Vikings saw the visitors take a 12-8 first quarter lead. But they were able to overcome it by switching to a pressing defense in the second canto.

Midway through the second period, Mitch Clay canned a pair of foul shots that gave Teays Valley a 15-14 lead. From that point on the Vikings were never threatened.

ALTHOUGH Sabina scored the first field goal of the second period they were held to a scant five points that frame and for most of the eight minutes were scoreless. The score at halftime was 29-17 with TVHS on top.

Fortner, who had seven field goals and four foul shots in gaining his game high total, paced the Viking second quarter effort by notching seven points. Doug Mallory hit six in the canto.

Mallory was the second leading scorer, hitting seven field goals and two foul shots for a total of 16. Dave Roese added 12 points to the attack.

High point man for the visitors was Smith with 15. From halftime on the Vikings were content to maintain their lead. The score was 42-32 as the final period got under way. Sabina pulled within eight points at one time in the final

Fred Cluff Paces Ohio U Frosh Cagers

Fred Cluff, a graduate of Hillsboro High School, is leading the Ohio University freshman basketball team in practically every scoring department.

Cluff has tallied 164 points for an average of 18.2 per game. This is the highest on the team.

He is the leading foul shooter with a total of 38.

Cluff also is the leading rebounder, a total of 137. He has top scoring performance of 26, and the top single game rebounding effort with 22.

Cluff was a member of the All-South Central Ohio League basketball team last year and an all-Ohio selection.

THE GAME was unusual in that only four personal fouls were charged to Teays Valley—a team low for the Vikings.

Teays Valley had 27 chances at the foul line and canned 17 for a 63 per cent foul shooting average.

Teays Valley won the reserve tilt, 48-39.

Tiger Matmen Defeated by Gales

The Circleville High School wrestling squad closed its season last night on a losing note by taking a 31-11 thumping at the hands of visiting Lancaster.

Tiger heavyweight, Jim Starkey, outweighed by nearly 50 pounds, was handed his second defeat of the season as he came out on the short end of an 8-5 score.

Starkey weighed in at 193 pounds while Clayton, his opponent, tipped the scales at more than 240, according to Dave LaBounty, Circleville Wrestling mentor.

John Butts came up with one of the winning performances for Circleville. He decided Kitsmiller 5-2 in the 112-pound class.

PEDRO KUHN battled Smith to a 5-5 draw in the 120 pound class and then Charlie Martin decided Bobo of Lancaster by a 7-3 count.

Ronnie Miller wrestling at 145, decided Camp, 2-1 for the other Circleville win.

Two outstanding performances in losing efforts were credited to frosh Jim Campbell and sophomore Tom Fletcher.

Campbell, who normally competes at 145 pounds, moved up a division to take on Eitel in the 154 class. Although he was pinned after five minutes had elapsed, the freshman Tiger did a real good job and was trailing by a 3-1 count, LaBounty said.

Tom Fletcher was doing a good job in the 165 pound class until he was pinned with only two seconds remaining in the bout.

The next action for the Tiger Grapplers comes Feb. 27 when they compete in the sectional tournament.

HERE are the results of the meet:

103 — Ailes (L) decided Mark Lindsey (C), 6-0.

112 — John Butts (C) decided Kitsmiller (L), 5-2.

120 — Pedro Kuhn (C) draw with Smith (L), 5-5.

127 — Charlie Martin (C) decided Bobo (L), 7-3.

133 — Uhl (L) pinned Glen Easterday (C), 4-38.

138 — Mott (L) decided Mansil Hurlbut (C), 7-2.

145 — Ronnie Miller (C) decided Camp (L), 2-1.

154 — Eitel (L) pinned Jim Campbell (C), 5-00.

165 — Johnson (L) pinned Tom Fletcher (C), 5-58.

175 — Danson (L) pinned Mick Tomlinson (C), 3-28.

Heavyweight — Clayton (L) decided Jim Starkey, 8-5.

Doubleheader May Be Boon To Ring Game

NEW YORK (AP) — Maybe the doubleheader is the answer to boxing's future. Madison Square Garden has lined up light-heavyweight and welter title fights for the same March 30 show. It has another on the drawing board for May.

No matter how much the March 30 show draws, Willie Pastrano gets a guaranteed $100,000, Emile Griffith $70,000 and Jose Torres and Joe Stabile $10,000 each. The Garden figures on a $200,000 gate at a $30 top, plus a big chunk from the closed-circuit showing by Theater Network Television. The New York area will be blacked out.

By a unique arrangement, Torres' financial adviser, Cain Young, has agreed to make up the difference between Pastrano's 30 per cent of the take and his $100,000 guarantee for a light heavyweight title defense. Griffith will be fighting his 11th championship bout when he defends against Stabile in the companion 15-round.

Harry Markson, boxing director of the Garden, already is making plans for another doubleheader in May. One of the bouts might be a rematch between Floyd Patterson and George Chuvalo. If Oscar Bonavena beats Zora Foley Feb. 26, the Argentine heavy might get a Patterson fight. And so on.

4 1/2 Million Fans Pay To See NFL Contests

PALM DESERT, Calif. (AP) — The National Football League, for the first time last season, had a paid attendance of more than 4 1/2 million fans — an increase of 9.6 per cent over the previous year.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced today that 4,563,049 fans paid to see the 98 NFL games last year. He added that 59 of the games drew capacity crowds.

Columbus Cager, 19, Dies of Meningitis

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 19-year-old basketball player, Fred Elder of Columbus, died Tuesday in a local hospital of meningitis. Elder was a student at Central High School.

Franklin County Coroner Dr. Robert Evans was conducting an examination to determine if the meningitis was the contagious type.

Westfall Opens Sectional Play At Teays Valley

The Pickaway County cage scene will turn to the tournaments this week with the beginning of the Teays Valley Sectional of the Central District on Saturday.

The Sectional opens at 1 p.m. with Westfall and Canal Winchester battling in the first game. Madison South and West Jefferson meet in the second tilt.

In Saturday evening games, The Plains of Mt. Sterling will play Columbus St. Marys at 7 p.m. and Rosary meets Aquinas at 8:30.

Central District coaches feel Aquinas will be one of the better teams in the tournament despite a 5-9 record. The school plays in the tough Columbus City League.

WESTFALL completed its regular season with an 8-6 record last week by swamping The Plains of Mt. Sterling, 78-49.

The county's newest school moved out to a slow start in basketball this year, dropping the first five games played.

But head coach Larry Wilson molded the youngsters, who played for four different high schools last year, into a solid combination.

The Mustangs won their first game on Dec. 30 and from that point on lost only one tilt. They finished second in the Scioto Valley Conference, ahead of Paint Valley—a team that posted a perfect record in the tough Ross County Cage League.

Balanced scoring and outstanding bench strength has been the key to the Mustang success during the latter stages of the cage season.

Nick Williams, who has tallied 151 points, is the leading scorer for the Mustangs. The little guard whose 10.8 average is far from spectacular, is a key figure in the team's fast break.

NEXT in the scoring department comes Neil Coleman, a junior forward whose 142 point total gives him an average of just over 10 points per game.

Coleman is considered one of the top defensive players by Coach Wilson. He consistently gets the call to guard the leading scorer on opposing teams.

Danny Bowen, a southpaw who can drive or connect with consistency on a one-hand jump shot from outside, has scored 140 points for an average of exactly 10 per game.

Next in the scoring department comes rugged center Steve Neff with 113 points. His size and strength, when teamed with Coleman, gives the Westfall quintet a powerful rebounding advantage against most foes.

Tom Hamman, a junior guard has scored 103 points to give the 12-member varsity squad five players who have bettered the 100-point mark in 14 games.

Tom Beard has scored 90 points and Bruce List 79 to round out the top seven. In Ray Mowery, Wilson has a competitor who plays an outstanding defensive game although his scoring is not as productive as the other seven players.

Tiger Frosh Top Amanda

The Circleville High School freshman basketball team wrapped up the cage season this week with a 43-27 win over visiting Amanda-Clearcreek.

The win left the little Tigers with a 7-5 overall record for the season.

George Hill paced the Tiger scoring effort in the Monday finale that saw frosh Coach Terry Ater get all 13 squad members into the game. Hill's 10 points was high as 10 players scored.

For the Aces, D. Davis tallied 13 markers.

Circleville jumped to an early lead and never trailed. The local quintet built a 7-3 first quarter edge into a 21-9 halftime lead and was on top 30-19 going into the final quarter.

Circleville	Steele, 1-1-3; Melson, 1-1-3; Hill, 4-2-10; Heath, 1-0-2; Lambert, 1-0-2; Downing, 1-0-2; Carle, 0-1-1; Conroy, 2-2-8; Wright, 3-0-6; Tootie, 2-2-6. Totals, 17-9-43.
Amanda	Posey, 1-0-2; D. Davis, 6-1-13; Collins, 0-1-1; Fraumfelter, 3-0-6; Aceton, 0-1-1; Miller, 1-0-2; T. Davis, 1-0-2. Totals, 12-3-27.

Rathburn Stars at Northwood

Tom Rathburn, a graduate of Ashville High School, is one of two leading scorers on the basketball team at Northwood Institute, Midland, Mich.

Rathburn, a 6-4, 190-pound forward, is carrying a scoring average of 20 points per game.

For the season, he had a 471 field goal percentage sinking 116 of 246. At the free throw line he has made 28 of 36 for a .777 average, high among the starters on the team.

He has controlled 160 rebounds second behind Jerry Pettway who is the leading scorer for the team with an average of 32 points per game.

Rathburn an all-Ohio selection during his high school playing days, attended Ohio State University for one year.

Studying automotive marketing at Northwood, he carries an academic average of 3.2 out of a possible 4 point average.

MORE TOP TALENT FOR METS—The New York Mets may be last in the National League again but they're adding more top names to their cast. Latest is Jesse Owens, the former Olympic champion, who will be a special running instructor at the club's spring workouts in St. Petersburg, Fla. Yogi Berra (left), player-coach, and President George Weiss help out for picture purposes in New York.

Canton Bulldogs Head for Philly

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Canton's professional football team, last season's United Football League champions, apparently will play its home games in Philadelphia this year.

The Bulldogs were purchased by Philadelphia interests and now are in the newly organized Continental Football League. The owners were willing to retain the franchise in Canton if Fawcett Stadium were available for home games.

But the Canton Board of Education Tuesday turned down a second appeal by Bulldog coach Boris Dimancheff for use of the 20,000-seat stadium. "The team probably will be located in Philadelphia now," he said. The Bulldogs played at Central Catholic Stadium last year, with a capacity of 6,000.

Worthy Note, Worthy Victory and Worthy Oak ran in the same trotting race recently at Pompano Beach, Fla. Worthy Note won.

Dead Cager Named All-America

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — Wayne Estes set four goals for himself during his basketball career at Utah State University. He achieved the final one Tuesday — eight days after he was electrocuted in a bizarre accident. He was named to The Associated Press 1964-65 All-America first team.

Heading into his senior year at USU last fall, Estes told Coach Le Dell Andersen he wanted: — The single-game scoring record at Utah State's Nelson Field House. (He set it Feb. 8 — the night he died — with 48 points against Denver University). — The USU career scoring mark. (He hit it with a total of 2,001 points).

—Victory over arch-rival University of Utah on the Utes' home court in Salt Lake City. (He scored 32 points when Utah State downed Utah 86-85 Jan. 7). Selection to the All-America first team. The award, first given posthumously and first given before the end of the regular season, was presented to Coach Andersen in front of 5,000 students in the Nelson Field House, where Estes played his last game. The occasion was a campus memorial for Estes. Because of Estes' death, The Associated Press departed from tradition in making the early award. Wayne's All-America teammates will be announced later.

"Wayne wanted this honor more than any other," said Andersen, in accepting the AP first-team certificate. "This would have been his greatest moment."

Estes was killed two hours after the Denver game, when his forehead brushed a high-tension wire drooping close to the ground as the result of an auto accident.

He died almost instantly. Utah State President Daryl Chase called the handsome 6-foot-6 athlete "an All-America in a hundred ways... the kind of gentleman a university president likes to hand a diploma to at graduation time."

USU established a Wayne Estes Memorial Fund two days after Wayne's death.

The university, which canceled all sports events last week in a tribute to Estes, will resume its basketball schedule Thursday against Denver.

Knicks Head For Stellar NBA Finish

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Unless they can figure out a way to lose their last 19 games in a row, the New York Knicks are headed for their best National Basketball Association record in three seasons. And if they can somehow manage eight victories in those last 19 starts, the Knicks will enjoy their finest record since 1958-59.

Those are the pleasant prospects facing the Eastern Division's longtime cellar dwellers following their fifth victory in the last seven games, a 106-102 decision over the Baltimore Bullets Tuesday night.

In Tuesday's other games, Cincinnati whipped St. Louis 111-103, and Detroit turned back San Francisco 114-106.

The victory was New York's 22nd of the season, equaling last year's total output and bettering by one the total for 1962-63. You have to go back to 1961-62 to find a season when the Knicks won more games. They were 29-51 that year.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC SALE On Monday, February 22, 1965 at 2:00 o'clock P. M., in pursuance of an order of the Probate Court of Pickaway County, Ohio, we will offer for sale on the premises at public auction the following described real estate:

BIG HEAVE—The Soviet's Tamara Press seems to get a big kick out of her work as she heaves the shot at the New York Athletic Club meet in Madison Square Garden. She won, setting a new American indoor record of 56 feet, 3 1/4 inches. Miss Press, who weighs 217 pounds, won the shot put in the last two Olympics, plus the discus at Tokyo.

Minnesota '5' Steals College Cage Spotlight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Minnesota and Vanderbilt took the headlines away from Davidson, Providence, Cornell, St. Joseph's and Connecticut in college basketball Tuesday night.

Minnesota whipped Wisconsin 101-91 on the road to keep alive the Gophers' hopes for their first Big Ten title in 28 years. Vanderbilt, playing at home, edged Kentucky 91-90 to tie Tennessee for the lead in the Southeastern Conference.

Davidson beat Wofford 117-72 for its 21st straight. Providence downed Rhode Island 88-72 for its 19th straight. Cornell made it 14 in a row by defeating Columbia 89-90. St. Joseph's Hawks won their 12th straight by clouting Bucknell 94-57 and Connecticut won its 10th straight by tripping Boston U. 89-78. Davidson, Providence and Connecticut won at home. St. Joseph's and Cornell on the road.

Lou Hudson's 34 points paced the Minnesota Gophers, ninth ranked in this week's Associated Press poll. It was the sixth straight for the Gophers and upped their Big Ten record to 7-1, one game behind the country's top-ranked Michigan Wolverines. Minnesota's two games with Michigan on Feb. 23 and March 6 may well decide the Big Ten crown, an honor Minnesota hasn't won since 1937.

Vanderbilt, knocked out of the AP Top Ten by losing to Tennessee last Saturday, came from 14 points back to beat Kentucky and tie Tennessee for the SEC lead.

Two free throws by John Ed Miller with 10 seconds left won the game after 33 points by Clyde Lee, 24 in the second half, pulled the Commodores from behind. Miller finished with 30 points to help eliminate Kentucky, last year's champ, from the SEC race.

Fred Hetzel's 33 points sparked the fifth-ranked Davidson Wildcats over Wofford. Jim Benedict and Jim Walker each tossed in 20 points to pace third-ranked Providence over Rhode Island. Tom Duff's 20 points led the fourth-ranked St. Joseph's Hawks in their rout of Bucknell.

The other teams in the AP Top Ten, Michigan, UCLA, Duke, Indiana, Tennessee and Wichita did not play.

Sophomore Wes Bialosuknia flipped in 37 points to lead Connecticut over Boston U. while Steve Cram stuffed in 32 points in the second half, to pace Cornell over Columbia.

First place Texas Tech turned back its latest challenger in the Southwest Conference, Texas, by 87-73 behind Dub Malaise's 30 points at Lubbock. Dave Syra scored 45 points to spark Syracuse to a 93-90 overtime victory over Colgate at Hamilton, N.Y., and Illinois crushed Ohio State 95-72 behind Don Freeman's 26 points at Champaign.

Rick Barry, the nation's leading scorer, was held to 19 points as his Miami, Fla., Hurricanes defeated Stetson 94-84.

OSU Taking Big Ten Lumps, But Wittenberg Rolls On

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Long-suffering Big Ten basketball rivals of Ohio State keep taking it out on this year's Buckeye battlers, but Ohio Conference underlings still can't do anything with long-dominant Wittenberg.

And nobody's doing anything with Central State's Marauders, who just about have an undefeated regular season locked up now.

That's the picture as focused in Tuesday night's 11-game slate involving Ohio hoopers: Illinois bombarded the Bucks 95-72 at Champaign. Wittenberg sewed up at least a share of a regular season OC crown by belting Ohio Wesleyan 91-72 at Springfield, and Central made it 20 victories by humbling Wilmington 80-66.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS If your boss handed you a $200 gift, would you use it for harmonica lessons?

Well, that's the problem that faces Phil (Toot Toot) Linz of the New York Yankees.

Linz, who plays second, third, short and harmonica for the Yankees, was given a $200,000 contract Tuesday for his improved playing on the field and an extra $200 for improving his playing in the back of the bus.

But, musically speaking, the Yankees attached a couple of strings to Linz' harmonica.

Linz and his harmonica became an overnight sensation across the country last August when he blew a couple of grating toots on a team bus ride while the Yankees were in the middle of a losing streak. One thing led to another, and Linz wound up fined $200.

Despite flunking his audition, Linz was flooded with offers from recording companies and harmonica producers but stuck to playing ball, hitting .250 in 112 games while ably filling in all around the infield.

He was rewarded Tuesday, although the Yankees refused to say that the $200 was a return of Linz' fine.

Ex-Dodger Joins Japanese Team

TOKYO (AP) — Lee Walls, formerly of the Los Angeles Dodgers, will play for the Hankyu Braves of Japan's Pacific League professional baseball team this year.

Walls, 31, signed a one-year contract with the Braves, who finished second last season.

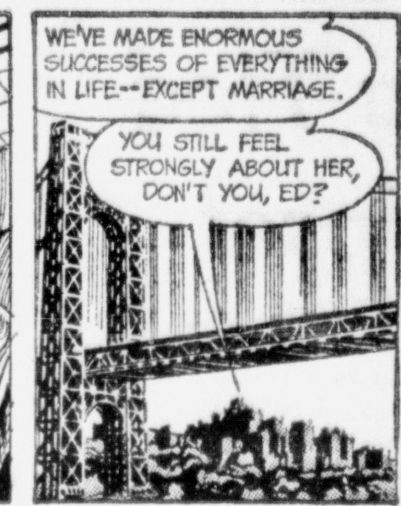

Walls, an infielder and outfielder, is a veteran of more than 10 years in the National League.

Walls is expected to play third base for the Braves alongside former teammate Daryl Spencer, now a second baseman playing his second season with Osaka.

Red China Tied To U.N. Upset

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. delegates believe Peking was the mastermind behind Albania's demand Tuesday for a formal vote that would force the U.S.-Soviet showdown in the United Nations which the General Assembly has been striving to avoid.

Most diplomats refused to speak on the record, but they said privately it was obvious Red China was behind the sudden move by chief Albanian delegate Halim Budo, which caught other assembly members completely off guard.

"It looks as if some people want to wreck the United Nations," U.S. chief delegate Adlai E. Stevenson told reporters.

Asked if he thought Peking had a hand in it, Stevenson said he had no clue, then added, "I suppose so."

Some diplomats felt Albania would not have suddenly run counter to the agenda of the assembly unless the Chinese Communists had brought heavy pressure to bear. Budo waved aside newsmen who sought to question him after the stormy session.

"Everything I had to say I said on the assembly floor," he declared.

Budo sought the floor at the start of the meeting. It had promised to be a routine session to declare a long recess while a special committee tried to resolve the peacekeeping muddle that has paralyzed the assembly.

Delegates bolted upright when Budo declared the time had come to end the voting moratorium that has frozen assembly business since the session began Dec. 1.

Budo lashed out at the United States, accusing the Americans of "barbaric bombing" in North Viet Nam and trying to use the United Nations as a "screen for its actions in Indochina."

He then loosed a broadside at both the United States and the Soviet Union, declaring, "We cannot tolerate the dominance of the United Nations by two powers at the expense of all the other members."

Budo proposed that the assembly decide at once by roll call to elect its steering committee, adopt an agenda and get to work.

Stammering with surprise, Assembly President Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana declared the entire membership had agreed to the voteless procedure "in an overwhelming desire not to have a confrontation at the present session."

He appealed to Budo not to press his motion, but the Albanian insisted.

This touched off a series of appeals from Saudi Arabia, Ethiopia, Guinea, Liberia, Sweden, Cameroon and Cyprus. Budo stood his ground.

After conferring with U.N. legal experts Quaison-Sackey resorted to his powers as president.

"If I correctly sense the feeling of the assembly, the assembly would like to adjourn until Thursday at 3 p.m.," Quaison-Sackey said. Budo raised his hand, then shrugged as Quaison-Sackey banged down the gavel.

Ohio Demand Rockets for Migrants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The demand by Ohio growers for migrant workers is almost triple that of a year ago, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation (BUC) reported today.

The big demand, said administrator Willard P. Dudley, is due to the keen competition for American migratory workers since the law permitting Mexican migrants to enter the country expired Dec. 31.

Dudley said Ohio growers already have placed 961 orders for 16,300 workers for the 1965 growing and harvest season.

Last year at this time, Dudley said, his bureau had received only 320 orders for 6,500 migrants.

He estimates Ohio fruit and vegetable farmers will need 20,000 workers on Ohio farms this year.

Dudley said he has informed Gov. James A. Rhodes of the situation. He said he told the governor that recruiting teams from BUC are now in Texas to help fill orders. The teams will move next to Florida, he said.

Dudley said crops where seasonal workers will be needed include tomatoes, sugar beets, pickles, strawberries, cherries, apples and tobacco.

News of World in Brief

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—"Our presence in South Viet Nam and in other places on the globe has but one purpose," said Harry S. Truman, "and that is to help keep the peace—to keep ambitious aggressors from helping themselves to the easy prey of certain newly formed, independent nations."

"If we abandon these to the new marauders, we are again headed for deep trouble."

The former president made the comment in a statement he issued Tuesday expressing confidence in President Johnson's handling of the Viet Nam crisis.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China urged today that "positive measures should be taken without delay to prevent the Chinese Communists from acquiring a nuclear capability."

A statement issued by a Foreign Office spokesman, Patrick Pichi Sun, was in effect an appeal for destruction of the atomic installations through which Mao-tung's Red regime exploded a nuclear device last Oct. 16.

U.S. and British authorities have disclosed they expect the Communist Chinese to stage a second test within a few days to a few weeks.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—The American cultural center and library in Jakarta will be placed under Indonesian government supervision, the official Anatara news agency said today.

The center was seized Monday by the semiofficial National Front after a Communist-led demonstration protesting U.S. aerial strikes in North Viet Nam.

The agency said the decision to supervise the cultural center was announced by the third deputy premier, Chaerul Saleh, after a morning conference with President Sukarno.

The U.S. Embassy was not permitted to take any furniture or books from the center.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is understood ready to resume disarmament talks at Geneva soon — perhaps in April. The spread of nuclear weapons heads the U.S. agenda.

The United States and the Soviet Union, the first two countries to develop and explode nuclear bombs, are the co-chairmen of the 17-nation Geneva conference. When it recessed last September, it was understood that the two would agree on reconvening this spring.

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP)—Two men tore down the American flag flying outside the U.S. Embassy in a demonstration Tuesday against U.S. military aid to the Congo. About 5,000 persons crowded outside a building housing the embassy.

Riot police fired tear gas into the crowd after the demonstrators began throwing stones toward the fourth floor of the building, where the embassy has its offices. The stones crashed through windows of a company on a lower floor.

State Minister Grace Ibingira entered the embassy during the demonstration to hand over a protest.

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Two Negro youths were wounded by a shotgun blast late Tuesday night as they were standing inside a Mobile restaurant. Both were listed in serious condition at a Mobile hospital.

Police identified the youths as Billy Kinard, 18, and James Lee Doss, 16.

Officers said the first shot went through a plate glass window of the restaurant, and the second was fired through the front door.

Witnesses said the blast came from a late model, light colored station wagon, driven by a white man who appeared to be in his 30s. Another white man sat in the back seat of the vehicle.

WASHINGTON (AP)—An underground nuclear test was conducted by the United States Tuesday at the Atomic Energy Commission's underground site in the Nevada desert.

Underground nuclear tests were not prohibited in the limited nuclear test-ban treaty signed by the United States, the Soviet Union and more than 100 nations. Atmospheric tests were banned. Red China is not a signatory.

The explosion was announced by the AEC at about the time the State Department was saying it "deplored" indications that Communist China is preparing for its second nuclear explosion.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communications Satellite Corp. has invited all companies that believe they can produce communications satellites to attend a meeting here Thursday.

There will be discussion of specifications for 24 communications satellites that will be part of the proposed Defense Department satellite system.

Earlier, COMSAT indicated it would sign a contract with the Hughes Aircraft Co. for the satellites. But the Philco Corp. protested to the Federal Communications Commission.

MISS SARA MILES

DuPont To Host 'Safety Tea' Here

Miss Sara Miles, a home consultant for the National Safety Council in Chicago, will be the featured speaker when the local Du Pont "Mylar" plant conducts a "Safety Tea" for employees' wives on Mar. 3.

The tea, scheduled to begin at 10 a. m., will be held in the Fairgrounds 4-H and Grange Building.

Miss Miles also is a staff member for "Family Safety Magazine". Her address here will carry the theme, "Never Underestimate the Power of a Woman".

The Circleville plant recently received an Award of Honor from the National Safety Council for the third consecutive year. This is the highest award presented by the NSC for outstanding safety performance.

MORE than 950 employees of the Circleville installation have not experienced a lost time industrial accident for approximately 4 1/2 years.

Du Pont officials point out that "Off-the-Job" safety of employees and their families is just as important as the safety of personnel at work.

They feel wives are, in a large measure, responsible for the home safety of their family. The tea is designed to promote a better understanding of the home and at work safety factors.

In addition to the featured speaker there will be displays directed toward various aspects of home safety, door prizes, entertainment and refreshments.

Miss Miles earned her bachelor of science degree at Iowa State University. She presently is a consultant for the Home Department National Safety Council.

She has served as a junior and senior high homemaking and general science teacher in Storm Lake, Ia. She also served in this same capacity for U.S. Forces in Bremerhaven, Germany.

Miss Miles also was assistant director of the Dairy Council of Kansas City, Mo. She holds membership in the American Home Economics Assn., Illinois Home Economics Assn. and Chicago Home Economists in Business.
